

WE NOMINATE

Aaron Lemonick, a teacher in the great tradition and a research physicist of distinction, who has been tapped for one of the more demanding posts in American higher education. Effective next July 1st, the 45-year old Lemonick, in his seventh year as a Princetonian, will succeed biologist Colin Stephenson Pittendrigh as Dean of Princeton University's Graduate School, a position established at the turn of the century and since held by six pace-setting educators, starting with Woodrow Wilson's arch-enemy, classicist Andrew Fleming West, and including mathematician Luther Pfahler Eisenhart, chemist Hugh Stott Taylor, physicist Donald Sinclair Hamilton and Pittendrigh.

The versatile, energetic Lemonick, a pivotal figure in the development of the mammoth Princeton-Pennsylvania Accelerator on the University's James Forrestal Campus, brings to his new responsibilities an unusual understanding of problems confronting teachers on all levels of instruction. Both in this country and overseas, whether directing a Princeton summer institute in physics, or working with teachers in predominantly Negro colleges or participating in training programs and planning sessions in Latin America and India, he has been concerned with better preparing fellow teachers to guide students of widely varying abilities through the mazes of modern-day science.

The scope of the graduate deanship, which Pittendrigh is relinquishing to accept a professorship of biology at Stanford University at the close of the current academic year, is indicative of the challenges Lemonick confronts. Where Princeton a decade ago was accepting some 680 graduate students, it is today working with 1,525 advanced students, with the number of women graduate students rising from 18 to 125 in three years, and is convinced that this "carefully controlled expansion of the Graduate School is Princeton's most substantial possible contribution to the nation's urgent and ever-mounting need for university and college teachers."

Following six years of service with the World War II Air Force, Lemonick, today a skilled cyclist rather than a 'round-the-block jogger, received his bachelor's degree from the University of Pennsylvania in 1950 and his graduate degrees from Princeton (M.A., 1952, and Ph.D., 1954). He joined the faculty of Haverford College in 1954 and, from 1957 until 1961, chaired that college's physics department. During this period he also held appointments as research collaborator at the Brookhaven National Laboratory on Long Island, and as a visiting lecturer at University of Rochester and University of Pennsylvania summer sessions, and was named — while at Haverford — director of a pioneering teachers' institute at Princeton.

Lemonick, a member of a well-known Philadelphia family and a National Science Foundation Faculty Fellow at the University of California (Berkeley) in 1960-61, returned to Princeton as Associate Professor in 1961 and was promoted to Professor in 1964. He was named first Associate Chairman of the Department of Physics in 1967. For three years Lemonick, now a member of the Special Faculty-Student Committee on the Structure of the University, was chairman of his department's graduate admissions committee and was also its graduate representative, handling the department's relations with the Graduate School and overseeing its graduate students.

For his success in explaining to laymen, both off and on campus, the mysteries of the world in which they live; for his achievements as a teacher and physicist; for undertaking an assignment of far-reaching significance to universities and colleges in these United States; he is TOWN TOPICS' nominee as

WHO CAN RESIST? High-powered, bright-eyed, full of beans, brains and drive, the kids who belong to the RESISTORS are moving at nano-second speed into the computer world of tomorrow. These are the youngsters who meet for 12 hours each Saturday (TWELVE hours!) in a big, comfortable old barn near Hopewell, a barn that looks like grandma's homestead on the outside and IBM on the inside.

The barn, on the Mt. Rose Road, belongs to Claude Kagan of Western Electric, the RESISTORS' guru, mentor, preceptor, fund-raiser, publicity agent and landlord.

The RESISTORS consists of about 20 boys and girls who spend the hours between 11 a.m. and 11 p.m. each Saturday working with computers, learning programming and devoting odd moments to the repair of antique computers, old typewriters and miscellaneous pieces of communications equipment.

They have three computers: a Bourgeois, a Packard Bell and—newest and brightest of all—a PDP 8 which they acquired through the Princeton Junior Museum. All of these adorn Claude's barn (no one has ever been heard referring to him as Mr. Kagan.)

Age? Low. The term "youngster," used in reference to a RESISTOR, needs definition. The oldest ones are about 16 years old. One, Nat Kuhn, is New Jersey's only ten-year-old programmer. He's been with the RESISTORS since its founding in 1967, so he used to be New Jersey's only nine-year-old programmer, but time ages us all. Mostly the boys and girls are middle-school age—early teens, some in high school.

Time Share. "That half million-dollar Bourgeois machine, as her little dungaree legs swing over the clutter on the barn floor, 'we don't use it because it just EATS electricity. It was the only one we had for a while so we used to use it. . . .'"

"The PDP 8 is great," Peter Eichenberger hardly looks up from the teletype. "Faster. More languages written for it."

Who decides, with 20 kids milling around the barn, who gets to use the equipment? "Well, it's time sharing," replies Jean, "you know—beating people over the head and making them give you a turn."

Organization. The boys and girls and Claude found each other through an article in National Science Technology on the Kagan collection of what the kids call "sensory stuff"—antique telephone switchboards, old clock tickers, old Edison phonographs.

Youngsters who read the article and then looked up Claude Kagan were, some of them, members of the Princeton Junior Museum. The Museum's link with the RESISTORS is paternal in the best sense: is you're on your own and we'll help pay the bills. Contributions made to the RESISTORS are made through the Museum and are therefore tax-deductible.

"You can have full control of my barn in exchange for paying the full electricity bill," Claude proposed after the initial meeting. That was the first of many. Summer came and the RESISTORS languished because even the youngest had paying summer jobs. The organization was not actually in full operation until this February, but by this summer, it was going strong.

Teach and Learn. Claude himself taught the first ones. They taught the rest and the RESISTORS still operates on an each-one-teach-one basis. A shelf of books on programming lines a small office in the barn. "The more you teach," one RESISTOR observes, "the more you learn."

This past summer, Claude was asked to conduct the Princeton-Trenton Institute. He took some RESISTORS to the auditorium of Junior High One in Trenton. There was a RESISTOR named Barry Kline and a small computer on the stage.

"If anybody is interested," Barry invited, "he can come up here. . . ." and 45 of the kind of boys people call "disadvantaged" burst up on stage to learn more about the computer.

"We ended up with about 10 interested kids in Trenton. Two who were very interested, came out to the barn. We've got a group now in the Unitarians' 'House of Soul' in Trenton—we left a teletypewriter here and we've got a Western electric man as a kind of father."

Money. This kind of output brings a glow to Claude's eyes, but the RESISTORS need in-out. Dollars, to be exact, and good, continuing financial support.

One reason the group needs money is the electricity bill. Another, even more compelling, is the need to keep kids with the RESISTORS during the summer, and not let them drift off to some paying job. Claude and Junior Museum people have concocted a scheme that goes like this: the RESISTOR is paid in a kind of scrip. He gets 125% of his pay in cash the other 85% is held in the bank in escrow (earning interest) to help him when he goes off to college. But financial backing is needed. There are these contributions channeled through the Junior Museum, but they aren't always steady and continuing. This fall, the RESISTORS acquired a brood of purebred Calcutte puppies and have been selling them at $125 each (call 496-1130 and place your order) but how often can you breed a Malemute?

A RESISTORS rooster is Harry Cooke of RCA, chairman of the Princeton chapter of the Institute of Electric and Electronics Engineers, and the chapter is considering the possibility of "adopting the RESISTORS."

It was Mr. Cooke who was indirectly responsible for the RESISTORS' greatest moment of challenge, success and fame. He arranged for them to be accommodated last spring in Atlantic City at the conference of the American Federation of Information Processing Societies, also known as the joint computer conference.

Fame. There was a telephone wire. All the exhibitors were stricken dumb except the RESISTORS who moved into a pay phone booth and briskly transmitted data signals picked up by another RESISTOR on the convention floor. "They were the only ones on line," says Claude, with a quiet smile.

Fame came again late this summer when Claude took a troupe to Worcester Tech. in Massachusetts for a conference on the use of computers in college instruction. They gave a two and one-half hour performance before men from MIT, the Bureau of Standards, the National Science Foundation.

This was when they visited a manufacturer and were presented with the PDX 8 00-cycle model had no relay rack, so the RESISTORS hauled it off, manually more or less, and plugged it into the wall socket of the lobby in the Holiday Inn, Worcester, Mass., until it was time to appear before the conference.

The project of the moment is winterizing the Kagan barn. "Computers don't like the cold," explains one RESISTOR, and RESISTORS don't.

much, either. Insulation was white ohm mark. They're making a film (Charlie Wheeler, producer), and about 200 feet have been shot, some at Junior One in Trenton, some last summer at the Smithsonian when a few RESISTORS spent four or five days in Washington, D. C. Western Electric gave the film and processing. It is possible that Claude hopes for additional financial support from this quarter. Or from any quarter. Want to be a friend and helper?

Sale of the puppies has brought in enough to buy a real furnace. The RESISTORS are now looking for some generous contractor who will provide masonry and labor for a chimney.

Another current project concerns the Hopewell schools. The RESISTORS have told the superintendent, and the principal of Hopewell Valley Central High that they would be willing to make their equipment available, with a terminal perhaps installed in a room near the high school library. RESISTORS would also volunteer to conduct classes for teachers in the high school.

At the barn on Saturdays, members come and go during the 12-hour time. A member is assigned to provide supper and mothers have been known to bring casseroles.

New members join and are solemnly sworn to the 10 O'Clock Commandments. For initiation, an ohm sign marked on the face with colored marking pencil. Negro members get a

BOARD PLANS REPORT

On Michael Resignation. New developments in community response to the resignation of Kenneth Michael as principal of Princeton High School include:

Residents' proposals for keeping him in Princeton being followed up by the Board of Education through Mrs. Suzanne S. Fremont, president, and Thomas Moore, vice-president, with hopes of a report in December.

A day-long "blitzkrieg" on the question of a community's responsibility for its school system is scheduled for Sunday, December 8, from 3:30 to 8 p.m. in First Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Fremont, in a statement issued Monday, expressed hope that the many "expressions of concern," specific suggestions "of ways to persuade him to change his mind and proposals for keeping him in Princeton in his capacity" received by board members during a week and a half, argues well for the future of the situation, whatever that turns out to be.

"This expression has been a true and warm outpouring of support and affection and respect for Mr. Michael. The members of the Board share these feelings, and we are gratified that so many people have been moved to speak up, and offer help and support."

Mr. Michael's resignation has been submitted effective at the end of the school year, for reactions of Princeton High School students to his principal's decision, see Question of the Week, page 37.)

A Community's Responsibility. The community forum

"will be an open discussion of the whole question of community responsibility for the schools, according to a member of the planning committee, the Rev. Robert Martin of the Fund for Theological Education. His suggested outline:

"What are some of the issues at stake... what are some of the strong points and hard spots in our schools... and how one gains some theological understanding of what does one's faith say about responsibility for education in community life."

He added, "There's a lot at stake here. It isn't all to focus on the principal's resignation but upon the principles involved in education and the responsibility of the community."

Keynoters at the Forum will include the Rev. C. Shelby Brooks, head of the Fund for Theological Education; Dr. Philip E. McPherson, superintendent of Schools, and the

According to the Borough Engineering Department, the schedule called for the base coat to be laid in one day and a second coat the following day. Last week, half a dozen of the stately elms that lined the street for many years were buzz-sawed down because they had died. (Staff Photo)

Rev. Gaylord Wilmore, executive of the religion and race of the United Presbyterian Church, U.S.A. Professor Edward Downey of Princeton Seminary, who chaired the United Presbyterian study committee that developed the social concern-oriented "Confession of 1967," will speak during the evening program, along with Dr. Wilmore.

The forum is sponsored by the adult education committee at First Presbyterian as a result of the discussion touched off by Mr. Michael's resignation, the Rev. Elliot Daley, associate minister, reports.

Planners include Robert Andrus, chairman of the adult education committee; the Rev. Martin, Dr. Donald M. Meisel, pastor of First Church, and Dr. McPherson.

The planners are working towards a "community confrontation," the Rev. Mr. Daley said. "It's to be a day-long blitzkrieg of the infrastructure of the school system in search of insights and hopeful possibilities."

The forum has scheduled a smorgasbord supper between the afternoon and evening sessions. Full details will be distributed in the churches Sunday.

$20 MILLION PLAZA SET

For Route 1 in Lawrence, A $20 million shopping plaza, reportedly including such stores as Bamberger's, Orbach's, Abraham and Straus and Sears Roebuck, will be built on a 165-acre site on Route One, just south of Quakerbridge Road in Lawrence Township. It is reported that the developer will be H. H. Macy & Co. of New York, which owns Bamberger's.

Preliminary details were released by Lawrence officials Friday at a meeting of an economic development committee meeting, but neither the name of the developer nor those of the stores planning to locate there were released.

Joseph F. DallePazze Jr., chairman of the township's planning board, said that several smaller stores would also be included in the complex, along with a restaurant and an auto supply firm. Plans also call for a five-story office building and a medical center, for the regional complex, which would have to draw shoppers from a 30-mile radius.

No specific timetable was given, but Mr. DallePazze reported that the plaza would be built in three phases; the first costing $9 million and including at least one of the major department stores. He also said the center would be enclosed and fully heated and air conditioned.

The announcement of the proposed Lawrence Center has touched off speculation on its effect on a similar shopping mall planned for the center of Trenton. Bamberger's had been scheduled as a major tenant of the Trenton complex, but now the firm appears to have shifted its plan, because of the possible earlier completion date of the Lawrence center.

The target date for completion of the Lawrence Mall is mid-1971, while Trenton's Center City South is scheduled to be completed by 1973 at the earliest.

Kraft Bows Out. The land for the complex lies between the Motor Vehicle Inspection Station in Bakers Basin and Quakerbridge Road, which was originally planned for use by the National Dairy Products Corporation as a site for a $30 million complex for a Kraft Foods Division plant. These plans to build in Lawrence have now been abandoned, according to a spokesman for Kraft.

Ownership of the 165-acre site is split between the state and private individuals. Mr. DallePazze said the developer has acquired options for the privately owned land, but the State House Commission must approve the state of state land. The property will extend from Route One back to a proposed extension of Clarksville Road. Entrances to the center are planned from both Route One and Quakerbridge Road.

A major reason for the selection of this site, Mr. DallePazze said, was its nearness to the proposed interchange of 1285 with Route One.

Macy's will reportedly buy the whole property and sell parcels to the other major stores. The management of the plaza would be turned over to an outside firm, which would construct and lease the remainder of the property to smaller stores. It is expected that the Princeton Bamberger's will remain a part of the Shopping Center here as a small, community store.

Water, Sewers Needed. Mr. DallePazze expects the only problem for the township would be providing water and sewers. He pointed out that a new zoning ordinance, scheduled for adoption next year, permits shopping centers in the Route One location, provided a minimum of 30 acres is acquired.

Gobbler's Choice

*If a turkey's feet
Get wet,
He often flies
Into a pit.
But I should think He'd rather be
Damp and cold
Than fricassee.*

November has been a month for getting wet, but the Man says that Thanksgiving Day is not expected to bring more precipitation. Fair and seasonably cool is the forecast.

Have a good one!

Based on the current tax rate, the shopping plaza expected to give Lawrence a bout $90,000 a year in taxes, after the second phase is completed. Extension of sewer and water lines into the area is expected to cost about $1 million for sewers and $130,000 for water.

RIGHTS GROUP? YES

Committee Reports. A ten-member civil rights commission for Princeton has been unanimously recommended to the two mayors by the citizens study group appointed earlier this fall.

Mayor Henry S. Patterson, announced Tuesday at his press conference that he and H. Mack, chairman of the group, gave him the report and its recommendations on Sunday.

The report does not advise a full-time paid coordinator at this time. It does, however, propose a full-time administrative secretary who would, according to Mr. Mack, be open to and sympathetic with any complaints that would be brought to the commission. The study group did not suggest where the commission office would be.

The proposal calls for a resolution from Borough Council and Township Committee and Mayor Patterson said he hoped that Council would consider the matter at its December meeting.

The ten members of the commission would be divided—five Borough and five Township. They would be appointed to three-year terms, but the first members would serve staggered terms: three for one year, three for two years and four for three years.

Included in the commission's responsibilities would be a program of continuing education for Princeton in areas of civil and human rights. The commission would not only constitute a channel for grievances, but would also consult and advise municipal officers and boards to make sure that services are offered on an equal basis for everyone.

Housing, education, employment and community planning are listed as the areas of "greatest citizen concern."

"This is a wonderful addition to Princeton," Mayor Patterson commented. The mayor has not been an enthusiastic supporter of the rights commission idea and has said frequently that he would rather have Princeton residents bring their problems directly to the mayor's office.

The study group's eight members, with Mr. Mack as their chairman, met only twice. At the first meeting, members sounded out one another about Princeton, their own views on a commission, the communications each one had had from people interested in a commission.

For ten days after the first meeting, the eight did homework on state laws relating to rights commissions. Some members solicited the opinions of friends or correspondents. Mr. Mack said, while others let people come to them. At the second meeting, the eight sat down together and prepared the report given to the two mayors this week-end. There is no minority report.

Members for the Borough reported by Mayor Patterson.

DEMAND BLACK TEACHERS
In Princeton Schools. A demand that the school board hire 20 more black teachers by next September has been made to the Princeton Regional Board of Education in a letter signed by 16 Negro fathers.

"We are seriously and deeply concerned with the failure of the schools to meet the needs of our children," the fathers write.

They charge that black children in the lowest class sections are not encouraged to achieve at high levels. They are disturbed because "there are virtually no black teachers whom children can use as models for identification."

The parents have told the board and Dr. Philip McPherson, superintendent, that black children are subject in school to "many forms of racism, overtly and covertly, consciously and unconsciously."

Acknowledging the complexity of the problem, they state that hiring "good-quality black professionals is a necessary first step" toward solution.

Among signers of the letter are Harold Logan, Albert Hinds, Warren Huff Jr., Lawrence Houston, Richard Edwards, Floyd Campbell, Irvin Newlin and Robert Wright.

In comment on the letter, Dr. McPherson said, the school board hired two Negro teach-

THANKSGIVING MEANS SHARING: Pupils at Little Brook School are sharing the bounty of Thanksgiving with children at the New Jersey Neuropsychiatric Institute at Skillman, and boys and girls have been bringing fresh fruit to school all week. ers this fall, after about a dozen were interviewed. Dr. Henry Drewry, formerly in McPherson said that some of the history department at were offered contracts pre-Princeton High School, visited where they were, had already south and interviewed students committed themselves to other but without success, Dr. McPherson said, or, in the case of South, where they lived in the south, wanted to remain in the south. The superintendent added, that some young Negro women teachers admitted they turned down Princeton's offer because there aren't enough eligible young black men here.

"Our efforts to recruit black teachers just haven't borne the fruit we had hoped," Dr. McPherson admitted.

There are now 15 Negro teachers, including two psychologists on the Princeton staff, and Dr. McPherson would like to double that number. "This would bring us to 10% of our faculty," he says.

MAN SHOT IN LEG

Police Charge Wile. David White of 135 John Street was shot in the left thigh Friday night at 9:27 with a small caliber pistol. His condition was later described as satisfactory. The same night, Ptl. Anthony Ranfone and Ptl. Arthur Jackson arrested Mr. White's wife, Mary Lou, 36, and charged her with atrocious assault and battery. She was located in a neighbor's home a few doors away from her own home.

Mrs. White was first treated for a fractured collarbone at Princeton Hospital. Police quoted her as saying her husband had beaten her up. After treatment, she was taken to police headquarters and arraigned.

The suspected weapon was recovered the next morning by Lt. Michael Carnevale and Sgt. Ralph Procaccino in the rear yard of the White home.

APARTMENTS POSTPONED

By Zoning Board. At the developer's request, the Township Zoning Board on Thursday night postponed until January 16 the hearing on a proposed 15-story apartment building for Lower Alexander Street.

In a letter to the board, the developer said that the board should be kept advised of any changes in the plan.

developer said that Stephen Susini, a key witness, would be unable to appear until January, Dr. Susini is a planning consultant who has testified frequently before various Princeton boards on a variety of projects.

The board denied the request of Princeton Bank and Trust for a pair of signs on its new Township branch — one sign pointing for Cherry Valley Road, the other for Route 262. The board found that the signs were 200% larger than they should be to conform to Township standards.

Mrs. Elizabeth Hubbard, 150 Valley Road, was denied her request for permission to maintain a mini-bus in the side-yard of her home. She drives the bus on contract for the Princeton Regional School Board.

The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints (Mormon) was denied permission to subdivide its lot at Mercer Rd. near Gallup drive, into two lots. The pair of lots would have been below allowed size for the residential R1 zone.

MAN OF THE WEEK: Aaron Lemnick, named by Princeton University to become seventh Dean of its Graduate School.

Sloop, 193 Nassau Street, Pitt. James Agins investigated the theft.

A metal cash drawer was reported stolen from the attendant's shack at the PSI parking lot adjacent to the Princeton Playhouse Monday morning but the drawer contained no money.

A Princeton University security officer called police Friday to report the theft of two expensive pieces of equipment from the university's department of electrical engineering some time during August or September.

Taken were a Syston Donor Counter valued at $2,025 and a $1,000 radio receiver.

BOVINO'S ENTERED AGAIN
Cigarettes, Candy Taken. Bovino's Market, 35 Leigh Avenue, was entered again early Sunday morning.

Township police were called to the scene at 1:35 by a passing motorist who told police he had seen four youths in the store. Ptl. Robert Hancock and Ptl. David Potts investigated. They reported finding on their arrival that the front door was open and a piece of plywood covering the left front window had been removed. Inside, they said, candy was scattered about the floor and the store was in general disarray.

Later, owner James Bovino reported that candy, gum and cigarettes with a combined value of $11.95 were missing. The market has been the target of a number of thefts in recent years.

CAR SKIDS, TWO HURT

In Trying to Avoid Deer, A driver and his passenger received cuts and bruises when their car skidded on Mount Lucas Road at 1 a.m. Saturday morning and overturned.

The driver, Andrew G. Clauser, 22, 191 Washington Road, told Township police that a deer ran across the road in front of his car. He braked, he said, but his small foreign car skidded across the road and overturned. He received an abrasion on the side of his head.

His passenger, Edward Esposito, 23, 9 Harris Road, received a laceration to his forehead and contusions of the right shoulder. He was treated at Princeton Hospital and released. Ptl. Anthony Gaylor investigated.

TWO ARE FINED

In Township Court, Two Princeton residents were fined last week in Township Court by Judge Glen B. Miller Jr.

Alton O. Etkow, 55, 90 Arcton Road, was fined $10 for careless driving, and William F. DeDeo, 28, Princeton University Student, was fined $15 for a stop sign violation. Both pleaded guilty.

WINDOWS, PHONE TARGET
Of Vandalism. Rare is the week when Township and Borough police do not have a single report of vandalism. Last week was no exception.

A police call phone used to report fires or emergencies was ripped out of its box at Witherspoon and MacLean Streets Saturday night. "This could have been very serious if someone had wanted to report a fire," said Chief Peter J.

McCrohan. He reported the phone was repaired that night.

Sometime after 6 p.m. Friday evening, a stone was thrown through the front window of the photography studio of Ulls Steltzer, 8 Tulane Street. Police report that the stone was thrown with considerable force against the 10 by 10-foot window, leaving a three-inch hole in the upper left corner.

Mrs. Steltzer did not view the act as vandalism, however. It was no attempt, to break in either, she added.

She told TOWN TOPICS that she believed the rock throwing was an attempt to strike out at the contents of the studio window which she said contained a display of portraits of black people. Also in the window was a caption, "Alabama and Mississippi: 1968."

"Someone saw the display and got angry and reacted," she said. She added that whoever hurled the stone, "was aiming at a certain spot in the window." Ptl. William Hunter, the investigating officer, said that the stone was thrown from a parking lot across the street.

A beer bottle and a large rock were the missiles used last week to break two 10-by-12-inch windows of the Princeton University apartment complex under construction on Harrison Street. Damage was estimated at $20 by foreman Arthur Skiński of the Rhine-Sconstruction Company, NYC.

Mr. Wolpert graduated with a B.B.A. degree in marketing research from the City College of New York. He has had 15 years of experience in the field of consumer research.

PUBLIC AID SOUGHT

By N. J. Limousine Co. The N. J. & N. Y. Limousine Company may be forced to end its services if it is not awarded a permit for operations to Newark Airport, according to R. C. Bell, the company's secretary. The transportation company's application for the Newark run has been pending for over a year, Mr. Bell said. Meanwhile, the Princeton-to-Manhattan bus company has filed a request with the public Utility Commissioners to stop its buses at Newark Airport.

"If Newark traffic is even partially divided, we will not be able to sustain ourselves," Bell noted. "Transportation companies do not flourish on competition."

Mr. Bell has asked interested persons to express their opinions, collectively and individually, to the New Jersey Board of Public Utility Commissioners in Newark. "The Princeton to Manhattan bus company, which now nets about $100,000 a quarter, does not need this revenue (for expense), and we do," Mr. Zell said in his appeal.

A battery was stolen from a parked car over the weekend. Police identified the victim as Edmund Currell of Ossining, N. Y., who had been visiting Dean Chase, 67 Leabrook Lane. Mr. Chase called Township police at 10:30 Sunday morning. A wire cutter had been used to cut the battery cables.

DRUMTHWACKET BACKED
As Governor's Mansion. A 53-year member of Drumthwacket Use Study Committee has told Governor Richard J. Hughes that the Stockton Street mansion built in 1853 would make a fine Governor's mansion. The committee, appointed early this year and at work since June, also proposed that Morven, the present governor's home, could become an "historic house museum." Hughes agreed with the findings.

Drumthwacket, with its Greek Revival style of architecture, was purchased with state and federal funds of A. N. Spinel, president of American Laxex Corporation, for $350,000. The committee pointed out that Drumthwacket has 2,800 square feet of so-called area on its first floor compared to 1,000 for Morven and more grounds—11 acres to five. "Morven is hardly adequate as a governor's residence," the committee said. Drumthwacket, on the other hand, needs some renovating of its own before it would be suitable. It lacks air conditioning, cloak rooms and rest rooms. The committee reported that it believed Drumthwacket could be renovated for a modest sum but one member put the amount required at $270,000. It added that the cost of renovating should be borne primarily by the state, although private funds could be solicited.

The committee was headed by former highway commissioner Paul B. Troast. Among the other members were Ken-

School Board to Lose Herbert Bailey

Herbert Bailey announced this week that he will not run for another term on the Princeton Regional School Board.

Two other members whose terms expire—Thomas Moore and Winthrop Pike—are still undecided as to whether they will run for re-election. The deadline for filing petitions is Thursday, December 26, at 4 p.m.

"I'm announcing my decision now because I hope a lot of candidates will run for these board positions," Mr. Bailey said. "School board elections should be contested, because a contest brings the issue out into the open."

Mr. Bailey has been active in Princeton's school affairs for many years. In 1962, he was chairman of the Township's long-range planning committee for schools. He served one year on the Township School Board, 28 months on the appointed school board after reorganization, and two years as an elected member to the Regional School Board.

"I'd like to encourage people to run for the school board because there are a lot of challenges," Mr. Bailey continued.

"I'd like to see more public understanding of the idea that education is more than just dishing out facts. It's a whole set of experiences that occur in the home, in the school and elsewhere, that help a kid grow to maturity."

He referred to criticism of the annual eighth-grade week at Stokes State Forest. "This is one of the best educational things we do—it's not just a 'junker' not just fun and games in the woods. It's an experience that includes all aspects of education."

"Confronting these things, making a freer curriculum and a more and more meaningful curriculum for today's kids—this is what you do on a school board and I hope to see many candidates run."

neth Chorley, a former director of Colonial Williamsburg and Mrs. Spinel.

PEDESTRIAN, 84, HIT

Crossing Washington Road. An 84-year-old pedestrian was struck by a car at 10:39 Monday morning, while he was crossing Washington Road at Ivy Lane.

Solomon Lefschetz, 11 Lake Lane, received a laceration in the back of his head, bruises to his left knee and possible back injuries. Ptl. Robert Muceli, who investigated the accident, measured 39 feet of skid marks before the impact and 35 feet after.

Police identified the driver as Jack N. Schuman, 30, of Silver Spring, Md. The accident is still under investigation.

CHECK YOUR OIL BURNER

But Check with Police. Chief Peter J. McCrohan reports that residents are being hit by bogus oil burner servicemen.

The most recent incident, he said, took place last week, when a man told a John Street resident that he had been sent by her oil company to check her oil burner. He charged her $5, gave her a receipt and left, Chief McCrohan said.

The woman became suspicious and called her oil company, which informed her that no one had been authorized by them to check her burner. Chief McCrohan added it was the third or fourth time police had received such reports. He cautioned residents: "If you want your oil burner checked, call your oil company. Don't let repairmen enter your house without checking their credentials."

SANTA TO FLY HERE

For Holiday Visit. Santa Claus will arrive by helicopter for his annual visit at 10:30 a.m., Friday, at the Princeton Shopping Center.

After landing in the field behind Bamberger's, Santa will occupy his house in front of Young's Ages, on the mall, and will distribute lollypops to the children.

Santa's helicopter flight to the Shopping Center has been arranged through the courtesy of Jim MacKenzie of MacKenzie Realty Co.

TICKETS AVAILABLE

Princeton High Choir

CHOIR IS FUND-RAISING: The Princeton High School Choir is doing all kinds of fund-raising things to earn enough money for a concert trip to Washington, D.C. in January. The choir has been invited to sing before two groups of professional musicians. These two members of the choir, Julie Schley, '69 and Mary Hedberg, '70, manned a bike-sale table, Saturday on Palmer Square.

located to the Borough engineer's office that he may apply for a permit under the new zoning law.

"I'm going to keep right on building until I get a court order to stop," Mr. Sheehan said this week. "I think that building permit section 12.35 of the zoning ordinance is illegal."

VARIANCE DENIED

For Garage Addition. A four foot yard variance sought by Paul T. Bortell Jr., 41 Robert Road, in order to add a two car garage to his home was denied last week by the Borough Zoning Board.

The board ruled that Mr. Bortell could locate the garage as a separate building in his rear yard without violating any minimum yard requirements. Mr. Bortell had hoped to attach the garage to his house.

In a second case, the application of the law firm of Mason, Griffin & Moore to construct an elevator shaft in the building at 201 Nassau Street was forwarded to the Borough Planning Board. The latter will review the application at its December 3 meeting because it exceeds the floor-area ratio limitation under the newly passed zoning law.

ARREST MAN YEAR LATER

In Station Theft. A year to the day later, Township police Saturday arrested a Trenton man whom they charged with breaking and entering and larceny at the Cligo Service Station, Princeton Shopping Center.

Heeywood Royster, 32, was sent to Mercer County Jail in default of $1,000 bail. He will appear December 4 in Township Court before Judge Glen B. Miller Jr.

Eighty-five dollars was stolen from the station when it was entered last November 23. Detective Samuel Bianco reported that Royster had been serving time in the Mercer County Workhouse on another charge.

ber 17; Mr. and Mrs. James Terry, 135 Dorchester Road, Hightstown, on November 18; Mr. and Mrs. E. Madro Thorpe, 201 Dana Street, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stambler, 1 Park Avenue, Pennington; and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ketchum, 2224 King Street, all on November 19; Mr. and Mrs. Martin Leheldt, Brookwood Gardens, Hightstown, on November 20; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cuchi, 31 Stanworth Lane, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Guidalian, 9 Millbrook Lane, both on November 22; Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Vinal, Oakdale Village, North Brunswick, and Mr. and Mrs. Fraser Lytle, Surrey Drive, Belle Mead, both on November 23.

SKATING PARTY FRIDAY

At Bakers Rink. A Thanksgiving skating party sponsored by the Chapin School will be held from 12:30 to 2:30 on Friday at Princeton University's Bakers Rink.

According to Mrs. Peter Goldman, chairman, tickets are available only through advance reservations, and may be purchased by calling the Chapin School. No tickets will be sold at the door.

The school fathers, assisted by their wives, will serve as chefs at the party. Older, hot dogs, soft drinks, and hamburgers will be sold at the rink for lunch.

Committee members include Mrs. Lester Slime, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Delhier, Richard Greenfield, Mrs. Donald Connor and Mrs. Ned A. Whalley.

BAZAR PLANNED

By Country Day School. The annual Christmas Bazaar of the Stuart Country Day School will be held from 10 to 5 on Saturday, December 7, at the school.

Holiday gifts, books, art work, and gourmet foods will be sold.

Pact vs. Rumor

To the Editor of Town Topics:

There has been a good deal of misinformation from those who have opposed the new postal facilities on North Harrison Street and instead of letting gossip and rumor run, I would like to state a few facts about the post office and its location. It has been ruled that the post office is now immune and is, therefore, not in violation of the zoning ordinance.

The post office wants to locate in the office-research zone. Other governmental buildings in the town have already located in zones that are more restrictive.

Our own Township Hall is located in RESIDENTIAL R5 and R6. The Borough Hall just completed in 1967 is located in RESIDENTIAL R1 zone, the most restrictive zone that the Borough has.

It has been said by those who oppose the post office that they are willing to pay money out of their own pocket to enforce a zoning law being violated by the United States Government post office. The present Township Zoning Law does not provide for a post office in any of its zones; therefore, the post office would have to obtain Zoning Board approval to locate anywhere in Princeton.

It has been said by those who oppose the post office that the post office should be placed out on Route 1 or in Montgomery Township along 206. If this should happen, Princeton Township will probably lose its mailing address.

An example of this is Montgomery Road near Rocky Hill with its mailing address of William and Piedmont Drive, approximately one mile from Princeton Junction, with its mailing address of Cranbury. Does a Princeton address mean so little that the Township residents are willing to give it up?

It has been said by those who oppose the post office that the Township Government should undertake an aggressive program to attract proper industries to our research park. Under the leasing arrangement to the United States Government, the post office is a full tax-producing property.

If the post office were to buy the ground, then it would produce no taxes. I do not know of any other organization other than the United States Government in its ability to pay taxes to the Township.

It has been said by those who oppose the post office that the public has been deceived, and that "something snafu." If this is true, I would like to know about it and it is only fair for the public for those who oppose the post of fice to make a full disclosure.

Veteran's Day Snubbed

To the Editor of Town Topics:

This year's Veteran's Day should have been especially honored by all facets of our society. It was the Golden Anniversary of the cessation of hostilities terminating a War to End All Wars and to Preserve Democracy.

However all you readers know that since then America's fighting men have engaged in three more bitter conflicts either to preserve Democracy or to stem the untold tide of Communism. What was once Armistice Day is now celebrated as Veteran's Day due to the failure of the successful conclusion of World War I and the ensuing treaty to either end all wars or preserve Democracy in some countries.

Many municipalities commemorate November 11 with memorial services and the customary parades because this day is a nationally recognized holiday granting civil servants another day off. All banks, most municipalities and many trade unions give their employees a holiday.

As a rule private and public schools and universities give the student body a day off acknowledging the sacrifices of the men whose deeds have permitted Americans to enjoy freedom. A few, in any country of the world can match.

We of the American Legion were astounded to hear and read that several school districts in Mercer County (Trenton, Lawrence and Princeton) had school sessions on that day when only a few days previous all schools were off due to the teachers' convention. We urge the administrators of these school districts to consider granting the students this day off in the future.

But first to explain the significance of this day to our history. In this day when "diluted patriotism and treacherous acts of peace-loving bums cloud the very meaning of precious freedom" (words borrowed from columnist Edward J. Mooney) we cannot do enough to perpetuate the gratitude due the survivors of America's wars of freedom. The roster of Veterans as defined by Act of Congress shall annually be given. Freedom Is Not Free. Anyone ready to trade places with the brave "freedom-loving people?"

H. R. ANDRILEJEWSKI
Chairman, American Communist League, Mercer County American Legion.

Obituaries

Mrs. Helen M. Osborn, 82, died November 24 at her residence, 119 Cleveland Lane, after a lengthy illness. She was the widow of Arthur H. Osborn, composer of the Princeton University "Canon Song." Born in Pennsylvania, Mrs. Osborn lived in Princeton for 18 years.

Surviving are a son, Martin M. Osborn, of Santa Barbara, Calif., and two grandchildren. Requiem high mass was celebrated in St. Paul's Church, with interment in the parish cemetery under direction of the Kimble Funeral Home.

Leslie J. (Jack) Luck Sr., 68, of 6 Edgemere Avenue, Plainsboro, died suddenly November 22 in his home. He retired recently after 17 years as a security officer for the Forestal Laboratories.

Born in England, Mr. Luck was a longtime resident of Kingston. He was a life member, a charter member and former chief of the Kingston Volunteer Fire Company. He was also a member of the Plainsboro Fire Company.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Catherine T. Luck; four sons, George, Leslie Jr. and Kenneth of Canton, O.; 14 grandchildren and one brother, Frederick R. Luck of Kingston. The service was held in the Mather Funeral Home. Interment was in Kingston Cemetery. Memorial gifts may be made to the Kingston Fire Company, the Plainsboro Fire Company or to the Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad.

Mrs. Mary K. Gorecki died November 22 at her home on Pennington Hopewell Road at Pennington. She was the widow of John Gorecki.

A native of Poland, Mrs. Gorecki lived in the Pennington area for 37 years. She was a member of the Legion of Mary.

Surviving are two sons, John and Albert of Pennington; a daughter, Mrs. Irene Damiel of Lawrence Township and four grandchildren.

Requiem high mass was celebrated in St. James' Church, Pennington. Interment was in St. Hedwig's Cemetery, Ewing Township.

Mrs. Isabelle R. Nayfield, 55, of 1 Woodville, Harrison Road, Hopewell Township, died November 22 in Mercer Hospital after a lengthy illness. She was the wife of Dr. Ronald C. Nayfield.

Born in Trenton, Mrs. Nayfield lived in Hopewell Township for the past 10 years. She was a graduate of Rider College and a member of the women's auxiliary of the Mercer County Medical Society.

Also surviving are a sister, Mrs. Michael Gombos of Hightstown and a brother, John H. Reno of Hamilton Square.

Requiem high mass was celebrated in St. Alphonsus Church, Hopewell. Interment was in St. Mary's of the Assumption Cemetery, Trenton. Memorial gifts may be sent to the American Cancer Society.

MEMORIAL SERVICES
A memorial service for David M. White of 124 Quaker Road will be held at 4 p.m. this Friday in the Princeton Unitarian Church.

A requiem mass for Gaspare Centese of 39 Highlands Place will be held at 9:30 a.m. this Saturday in St. Paul's Catholic Church.

News Of The CHURCHES

"COMMUNITY" IS THE THEME Of Thanksgiving Services. Most of the Princeton churches will join in the Pastor's Association-sponsored Community Thanksgiving service at 11 this Thursday in the University Chapel.

The three West Windsor churches will also hold a community service. Both groups have earmarked the collection for the work of the chaplaincy at Princeton Hospital.

For the first time, the University Chapel will be filled with the music of the drum and bugle corps of the Jamesburg State Home for Boys. The corps, led by Howard S. Franklio, will head the procession, followed by Princeton teenagers carrying eight-foot banners depicting the Thanksgiving theme. The banners have been in the making for weeks by youth groups and parent-child groups all over town.

St. Paul's School children will be in the procession, carrying Thanksgiving flags they have made. There will be an inter-church singing choir, directed by Ernest T. Braun, and children's choirs. The large Princeton High School Choir will sing, under the direction of William G. Gedge.

The order of service is based upon the Lessons and Carols, with scriptural and contemporary readings, interspersed with music. Readers include Dr. Lee H. Bristol Jr., president of Westminster College; the Rev. Earnest L. Gordon and the Rev. Carl D. Reimers, deans of the Chapel; the Rev. Marion E. Sloan, vicar of Mt. Pisgah AME Church, Julian Jaynes, Master of Woodrow Wilson College, Princeton University; John W. Counts, librarian at the Littlebrook School; writer Fred W. Bauer, and the Rev. E. Hubby Auer, vicar of Trinity Episcopal Church.

The organ prelude will be played by Ray M. Keck of the Princeton Class of 1969. Princeton teenage boys will be ushers at the service. They have been enlisted by William Knight of Trinity.

In West Windsor, the community service is scheduled for 10 a.m. on Thursday in the Maurice Hawk School, where the Prince of Peace Lutheran Church holds services. The Princeton Baptist Church of Penns Neck and First Presbyterian Church of Dutch Neck are co-sponsors.

The Rev. Walter S. Carvin of Princeton Baptist will give the sermon. Assisting in the service are the Rev. John C. Pfisterer of Prince of Peace and the Rev. James S. Weaver of Dutch Neck Presbyterian.

ECUMENICAL COUNSELING Available at Trinity, Trinity Episcopal Church, in response to a need on the part of the Princeton Pastors' Association for more facilities for pastoral counseling, has established the Trinity Counseling Service, an ecumenical basis.

Acting director of the service is the Rev. Ray Auer, vicar of Trinity; A. J. van den Blink, B.D., serves as pastoral counselor and other counselors will be added to the staff.

Consultants to the service include Dr. William C. Combs, psychiatrist; Dr. Frank Haronian and Dr. Maurice Phillips, psychologists; Paulie Nicodemus, social worker; and from the field of theology, the Rev. Drs. Sewall Hildner, J. MacDonal.

The service was established by the Trinity vestry last May. Other churches of Princeton are associated with the service in an informal way, the church announced in its November

OPERATION CHINA BEACH. Close to 12,000 small gifts have been packed for the Marines' Christmas in Vietnam by volunteers gathering twice weekly in Trinity Church. Each branch on the tree in the background was installed when 500 gifts were packed and the gold balls represent each $10 in funds for the project. On Thursday evening, volunteers from St. Paul's and the three Presbyterian churches were hard at work. ("It's the most ecumenical movement going in town," says Mrs. Sydney Stevens, chairman.) Last year, 7,000 Christmas gifts were sent to the Marines in care of Mrs. Charles W. Calwell of the China Beach USO near Danang, who will distribute them again this year. (Staff Photo)

Speakers Scheduled for Various Events

The Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy, president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, will give the James J. Reeb Memorial lecture at Princeton Seminary at 7:45 p.m. on Monday, December 5. James Reeb, an alumnus of the Seminary, was fatally beaten at Selma, Ala., on March 11, 1968 during a civil rights march.

Dr. Carl A. Fields, assistant Dean of the College at Princeton University, will address the Men's Breakfast Club of the Presbyterian Church of Lawrenceville, at 8:30 a.m. this Sunday at the Princeton Inn. His talk is titled "Implications of Today's Black Experience for the General Community."

Miss Janet Lacey, C.E.B., former chairman of the Refugee Committee of the World Council of Churches, will speak at 1:30 p.m., Wednesday, December 4, in the student center at Princeton Seminary. Her talk is titled, "The Third World," a discussion of the problems of underdeveloped nations.

Members of "Teen Challenge" will present the film, "Miracle on Broad Street," concerning problems and cure of drug addiction, at 8:30 p.m. this Saturday at Princeton Assembly of God Church, North Harrison Street and Clearview Avenue. The young people will discuss the film. Teen Challenge is a religious organization, founded by David Wilkerson, dedicated to helping youthful drug addicts. It has centers in major cities throughout the United States.

In Princeton United Methodist Church as part of an open meeting of the Women's Society of Christian Service, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald T. Stone and Brian Lyke, are in charge of the service. The instrumentalists are singers from Princeton Theological Seminary. A business meeting will be held in the social hall, followed by the service in the sanctuary.

TO MARK THANKSGIVING At Christus Anglican Church, A Thanksgiving Day service will be held at 11 this Thursday at First Church of Christ, Scientist, 16 Bayard Lane.

The lesson-sermon consists of readings from the Bible and the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy. There will be testimonies from individuals in the congregation and the singing of several hymns.

BULLETIN NOTES Tutors, especially math, are needed by the Princeton Study Center, to help youngsters in grades 6 through 12. One-and-a-half hours a week may mean the difference between success and failure. The Study Center is held in Community Park School. Also needed are reporters and study hall assistants — no special training required. Inquiries are directed to Mrs. Gahn, 921-2139 between 4 and 6 p.m.

"New Faces of Mission," will be discussed by the Rev. Leonard Miller, associate director of the Jamaica (N.Y.) Community Corporation at the first on the Christian Social Concerns program on Sunday evening in Princeton Methodist Church. A family supper is scheduled for 5:30 p.m., followed by the program.

The talk mass, "Rejoice," will be presented at 8 p.m. next Thursday, December 5, in Trinity Church.

ITTALA?

I finally decided to put it up even though the display case isn't ready. I had my young friend, Peter Bickford, here to help me unpack this beautiful glass from Finland. I was surprised to see a high school student get excited over crystal, and within an hour, customer reaction was the same, so that I've got to re-order this week. I knew when I first saw this marvelous merchandise that the designs and quality were what I wanted in the shop. Not cheap! But what quality glass is?

THE CRUCIBLE is over. I'm tired, and can concentrate on Christmas business. Lots of new stuff is coming in. The shop is shaping up, business is picking up and all's well with the world?

MUSIC In Princeton

QUARTET DISAPPOINTS

Performance Lacks Polish
It was a long evening for Series II concertgoers at McCarter Monday night. The Hungarian Quartet, with members Zoltan Szekely and Michael Kuttner, violin; Dances Korovay, viola; and Gabriel Magyar, violoncello, were featured in works by Haydn, Hindemith and Beethoven.

This was the fourth appearance of this famed ensemble in Princeton since 1962. Each time the quartet has performed here, its members have distinguished themselves with brilliant interpretations and solo performances of their repertoire. One therefore looked forward to the Monday night return engagement by the Hungarian Quartet but unfortunately the group proved to be disappointing.

Their program included the Quartet in G Minor, Opus 74, No. 3 ("Rider") by Haydn; the Quartet No. 3 Opus 12, by the late Paul Hindemith, and the Quartet in A Minor, Opus 132, by Beethoven. As programs go, this would appear to be an excellent choice. (Most string quartet programs usually are the literature is so rewarding to begin with.)

But the usually reliable first violinist of the quartet, Mr. Szekely, was below par for most of the evening. His intonation was highly erratic.

There were several instances of false attacks and some of the balance (in the Hindemith) was off center in regard to the central melodic idea. Despite this, the quartet still plays as a unit, with much feeling and strength. Yet somehow the Haydn Quartet, a marvelously inventive composition, seemed to suffer the most from some incoherent playing, sloppy ensemble work and the aforementioned weak intonation.

Hindemith composed six quartets during his lifespan, yet it is the Third Quartet written in 1922 that reveals virtually all the performances devoted to Hindemith's quartet output. The fourth is the most successful if less successful as a whole, and the Sixth is a delightful neo-classical gem in the harmonic idiom of "Mathis der Maler."

These latter works deserve readings by the major performing quartets of our time, or at least by one of the Third Hindemith Quartet, it is nevertheless a welcome event on any concert program. The music abounds in creatively harmonic interest, rhythmic energy and inspiration.

The fugue manner of composing, so prominent in the decades between the wars, seems a bit dated now, but the inspired melodic invention and craft of Hindemith triumph far beyond present day trends. This work is a masterpiece.

Intonation inadequate. The Hungarian Quartet played well, but again Mr. Szekely seemed unable to maintain adequate intonation. In fairness to this fine artist, it should be recorded that the temperature in McCarter was unusually chilly.

And on the wings of McCarter, it is perhaps even more disconcerting to the listening artists who to perform. Whatever the reason, however, the fact remains that the music received something less than the polished performances one expects from this ensemble.

The Quartet No. 15 in A Minor (Opus 132) by Beethoven is one of Beethoven's longest. There have been times when this listener has genuinely savored every bar of this massive score.

This is easily achieved when one listens to the old Budapest recording in the comfort of one's armchair, or perhaps at a live performance in a chamber music hall such as the McCarter on the university main campus. But Monday night at McCarter was another story.

Despite the best playing of the evening by the Hungarian Quartet, the Beethoven seemed long, redundant, and at times rhetorical. The great slow movement with its organic texture still impresses the listener, but the waltz-like contrasting section that Beethoven interjects (twice, no less) completely destroys the mood of the structure and the movement as a whole. Sorry for the sacrilegious comment to the Gods of Music, but that's the way the music appeared to sound to these ears in this chilly November evening.

— Arno Safran

RUBINSTEIN? HURRY!
Tickets on Sale. When Arturo Rubinstein gave his first piano recital in Princeton two seasons ago, his appearance was a complete sell-out several weeks in advance, and McCarter's box office urges quick action for his forthcoming visit to Princeton on February 2.

On that Sunday afternoon, Mr. Rubinstein will play in the Gymnasium on the University Campus at 3 p.m. The 81-year-old artist has been called the "world's foremost pianist."

CONCERT TO BE HELD
By Princeton Musicians. The Nassau Serenade and Divertimento Society, a group of Princeton University music students, will perform a free, classical music concert at 8:30 p.m., Friday, December 6, in the Woodworth Center.

The program will include Bach's Cantata No. 82: "Ich habe genug," with senior bass soloist William Martin, and the Beethoven Trio in B Major, Opus 11, for clarinet, cello and piano.

Junior Daniel Werts will be featured in Sonatine for piano, and Joshua Rifkin, a second-year music graduate student, is scheduled to conduct the Dvorak Serenade in D Minor, Opus 44.

Something to hold on to

Do you believe only what you can see? Or do you also believe what you can't see, but can prove?

Wind, for instance. You can't see it, but you can prove its effect on things around you.

While many of us may be fearful and depressed by what seems like a confining world, thousands of individuals are proving the existence of a force which is bringing peace and stability to their lives.

They are finding order and goodness around them while they never noticed it before.

OWNER MOVING, OFFERS INVITED

This small brown ranch is the kind of house so many buyers ask for — one that needs work, in an area that makes the work worthwhile. Good in size — three bedrooms and two baths — and in layout, the house needs decoration inside, sparkling up outside. But it has an ease close to Princeton, trees of its own, in a generally wooded area. Plantings that need thinning out rather than adding too. A good kitchen with many cabinets, built in dishwasher, counter top range, wall oven — and a main floor laundry area, one floor living, with the potential of future additions and a feeling of light and air and sunshine. Asking $32,500

—A complete selection of homes in all price ranges —
 in Princeton and nearby areas.

Our listings, as those of all New Jersey Real Estate
 Brokers, are subject to open housing.

STEWARTSON - DOUGHERTY Real Estate Associates

8 Stockton Street, Princeton, New Jersey

PHONE: 609-921-7794

OVER 7 ACRES ADJOINING THE BEDENS BROOK CLUB: an absolutely top country residential location with sweeping vistas of woods and meadow.
Present one acre zoning would permit 4 lot subdivision, but just as it is it would make a super building lot for one grand house. No matter how you look at it this is a wonderful investment at our price of $24,000

JUST OFF THE GREAT ROAD: in another enviable Princeton Township setting, we have two wooded acres of south-sloping hillside that would be a wonderful site for your new house. On a long-established road with public sewer and water. Available immediately at $22,500

BIG, COMFORTABLE AND RELAXED: A wonderful 'family' house in the Western Borough. Broad entrance hall opens to high ceilinged living room with fireplace and large library. Brick floored suitoroom. Formal dining room with doors to a wide verandah overlooking the garden. Recently modernized kitchen. Separate suite of two rooms and bath for maids, guests or teenager completes the ground floor. Upstairs there are 5 bedrooms and 3 full baths.
Huge attic for storage, and newly finished playroom with party kitchen in the basement. Fenced and filtered swimming pool and many scenic shade trees.
Another new listing, offered here for the first time. $115,000

JUST A SHORT WALK HOME FOR THE CHILDREN FROM the Princeton Day
School and Stuart Country Day. The Western Princeton Township location is really a dream: over an acre with all kinds of trees on a quiet country road.
The house was built nearly 40 years ago by its only owner and has been meticulously maintained ever since. Broad front porch opens to living room.
Separate dining room, modern kitchen, back entry. Two bedrooms and new tile bath on the first floor. Upstairs, a good finished room and space for another and a second bath. Basement, garage and garden house. Ideal for a small family who want privacy. Asking $42,000

News Of The THEATRES

ENTER KING ARTHUR! Magic! Danger! Excitement! The young King Arthur, in the days when he was on the threshold of greatness, is the central figure of "King to Be," the children's Thanksgiving treat at McCarter Theatre.

"King to Be" is a play full of magic tricks, mysterious surprises from Merlin the Magician and plenty of excitement from the young king's enemies.

Performances have been scheduled for this Friday, the day after Thanksgiving, at 3:30, and this Saturday at 11 a.m. and 3:30. Tickets may be ordered by calling McCarter at 924-6700.

Rudy Adams will be Merlin, the magician who does his best to defeat the wicked magic of Morgan Le Fay, played by Aline King.

Anne Murray will be Arthur's mother, Queen Igraine.

Robert Parham is the old

HOLIDAY ENTERTAINMENT: Thanksgiving weekend will bring "King to Be" to McCarter for three performances Friday and Saturday. In this musical story about young King Arthur are Ann Murray as the Queen, Rudy Adams playing Merlin the Magician, and Lesley Rivers as Lady Morgause.

Soldier Sir Ector, and Lesley Rivers is Lady Morgause. All five of these actors have been playing in "The Village A Party" in McCarter repertory.

Dan Berkowitz, of the University's Theatre Institute, will play Lok, Arthur himself will be Andy Bloch, young Princeton High School actor.

INTIME TO DO O'NEILL Long Day's Journey, Eugene O'Neill's long day's journey into his past will be set forth by Theatre Intime as its second major production of the season.

"Long Day's Journey Into Night" will play next Thursday, Friday and Saturday, December 5, 6 and 7, and again December 12, 13 and 14 at 8:30 in Murray Theatre on the Princeton University campus.

O'Neill presents the Tyrone family — Mary Tyrone, the mother, frail and gradually disintegrating under the influence of drugs her husband James, a retired actor; Edmund (O'Neill himself), the younger son who learns, in the course of the play that he has consumption, and Jamie, the tortured, drunken elder brother.

Scotty Bloch, Princeton actress, will play the part of Mary, and William Hookins, the younger son who learns, in the course of the play that he has consumption, and Jamie, the tortured, drunken elder brother.

Mrs. Bloch has been active in the theatre for many years, touring Germany and Austria with USO companies in the title role of "My Sister Eileen," working extensively in "Thoughtful it is; certainly it leaves you thinking. Mr. Fuller has written a not-to-fanciful fantasy about racial integration that sanely concludes that it will not at present solve anybody's racial problems . . . The play's originality and urgency are unquestionable and so is the talent of the playwright."

McCarter is to be congratulated. . . Dan Sullivan, New York Times

"NUTCRACKER" COMING
For Christmas, Tschakovsky's immortal Christmas present, "The Nutcracker" will once again be a gift to Princeton.

For the fifth year in a row, the Princeton Ballet Society and McCarter Theatre will join to produce the complete ballet, full-length, in two acts. Dancers will be members of the Princeton Regional Ballet troupe.

Performances have been scheduled for Friday, December 20, at 8:30; Saturday, December 21, at 2:30 and Sunday, December 22, at 3. Tickets are now on sale at McCarter.

Andree Estey and Lila Brunner, Artistic Director and Ballet Mistress of the Princeton Regional Ballet, are the choreographers. Stephen Hendrickson's original scenic design will again be used. McCarter's bookkeeper reports that "The Nutcracker" holds a theatre record: there has never been an unsold seat for any of the 13 performances since December, 1964.

SOLD OUT
"Living Theatre." Even standing room — only is gone, for this Saturday's Princeton appearance of The Living Theatre.

However, McCarter Theatre hopes to sign up the controversial company for a return engagement to absorb the overwhelming demand for tickets.

"CHARLEY'S AUNT"
Breen In Stitches Lately? Brendan Burke plays Charley's aunt in the production of the same name, due to sign in at McCarter on the Friday after Christmas, December 27, and the advances from McCarter are already doubled up with laughter.

Robert Blackburn, who is Cornish in "The Village," is the director of the famous old farce, fourth in McCarter's 1968-69 repertory list. The fifth play will follow immediately. It is Chekhov's "The Three Sisters," due to open on Friday, January 3 under the direction of Tom Brennan. This will be the first major Chekhov work to be produced at McCarter. The only other offering from the Russian playwright was the brief and comic "The Marriage Proposal."

PLAYHOUSE
Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs (Wed. thru Sat.) Walt Disney's classic animated film returns to give the new generation of youngsters a chance to enjoy this musical version of the old, old story.

Wild in the Streets (Sun thru Tues.) is an off-beat drama, starring Shelley Winters, Christopher Jones, Dianne Varsi and Hal Holbrook. Christopher hates his mother (Miss Winters) and can't abide his father. He leaves home after blowing up dad's car.

IT'S NEW To Us

TIME TO GET READY
For the holidays! Forewarned is forearmed, as the saying goes. We have 22 shopping days left until Christmas. The shops are at their gayest and prelitest this time of year, filled with new ideas in personal gifts, toys, games, tree trims, house gifts and delicious foods for entertaining.

It's an exciting time of year, touched with wonder, with unexpected gestures of friendship and love. It's a time to savour and remember until next year.

And to keep you in trim for the holidays, we again offer a guided weekly tour through the hundred or so shops in the Princeton community, pointing out the highlights. So make up your lists. The shopping will be fun.

Cummins Shop was the first on Nassau Street to come forth with a decorated Christmas tree. It bloomed in the window a full two weeks before Thanksgiving, in fact. If you're wise, you'll hurry in before their supply of unusual tree trunks and mountain greenery disappears.

For trimming your house, Gus Hult at Cummins has found a fascinating assortment of wreaths and greens and even artificial trees from table to floor in size. The greens are the most natural, looking artificial sprays of pine and spruce, charmingly arranged.

We liked the tall Yule taper nesting in a wreath of greens ($4). You may delight in the gilded cage with two red birds inside and an escape perch on top — and greens all around ($10).

There's a table tree enchantingly trimmed with tiny, realistic fruit (even a couple of peapods, thoughtfully paired).

Over at Marsh's Pharmacy are fat, stuffed elves to perch in your tree. Some have their arms around a "sampler" of Whitman's famous sampler.

At Princeton Gift on Palmer Square you'll find paired gold eggs with delicate gold trim and blue and green velvet ties, fragile and lovely.

Colonial Williamsburg dried flower arrangements (by Marienne of Trebleton) straight out of a painting, are at the Applegate Floral Shop. This is the first of the two Applegate Shops in Palmer Square that you see, walking down from Nassau.

It used to be that to use artificial flowers was to admit defeat, but the incredibly realistic flowers at Applegate's will make you gasp. People can bring in their own bowl or vase and Dana Dawes works from there. "People won't believe they aren't real!" she says of first time customers.

Browse around and you'll see arrangements of fruit so real that your child may try to eat some. A Princeton woman was buying one of these to send to her daughter in Maine.

You'll find big fat mums ("a woman look four for her patio you just put them in a pot and put gravel around them," Miss Dawes says).

We saw cypripediums, poinsettias, beautiful red cy clamen, budding laurel, pussy willows, callulids, and bamboo so real you give up. There are

Decisions, Decisions

The "Executive Bear Bag" has been devised to help things along at the office. One is an angry red bull, of leather loosely stuffed with beans, another an orange tiger. It's for "rubbing and rolling, for picking up and plopping down. . . it's better than doodling for tension," according to Country Mouse, on Nassau, where you'll find it at $4.95.

The one we like is the green "Old Croaker."

illies in two shades (spray them with lime essence and blend with pink dogwood — you won't believe it yourself.)

The flowers can be used year after year. You can take an arrangement apart, wash it, put it away for a while. A spray costs an average of 35c. A large "gardenia" plant you won't believe is $16, its branches filled with buds and full blooms.

Applegate's has garlands of artificial holly, evergreens, with more coming in next week.

While we're on the subject, we want you to take a look at the artificial trees at Cummins Shop. It is fascinating how real these artificial greens can be.

Cummins has trimmed a small table size one with tiny gold angels and a string of red-and-white striped balls. The table trees are about $2.50 to $4. Over against one wall are the larger, floor-size trees. You'll also see lengths of greenery ("ropes") some with small artificial fruits entwined — as colorful as a medieval painting.

The Christmas wreath problem may well be solved for you from Cupman's collection. Some are trimmed with place cards, others with artificial fruits. Prices range from $6 to $15, depending upon size.

When you drop into the Country Mouse on Nassau, you'll notice first the wonderful fragrance. This is from the scented candles, which are a must for the holidays. We saw just left of the Dutch door a softly colorful array. The 14-inch candles can be made into "angel wings" after they've burned a while, by pinching the soft wax at the top; the drippings form interesting shapes. They range in size from 4 inches high to about 14; prices are $1 to $2.50.

You can pick up at C. Mouse a package of five bottle-drip candles for the "now" friends on your list. Choose from the candles tinted in the blue spectrum, or the reds. ($1.)

For decorating, you'll see a long "nose" of red cranberry length ($5.95); sprays of small, beautiful fruit ($8c) to use as is or take apart; and candy circles, ranging from the tiniest imaginable of holly and red berries (25c) to large, beautifully blended greens for the wide tapers.

Here you'll find candlesticks, tall and short. We noticed a well-crafted walnut pair, about 14-inches high ($20/pr.) and a pewter-type for a fat candle. ($4.) C. Mouse has them in wrought iron, colonial brass, Chinese red ceramic boxes, all sorts — and all with candles and greens to show you the many possibilities in decor.

Junior craftsmen can turn out their family's Christmas gifts after a trip to Gallery 100.

There's "Sculpt-metal" that molds like metal. Think of the possibilities: ash trays, little sculptures, models, high and low relief. Christmas figures.

"Cellu Clay," an instant paper mache kit with a booklet of ideas for making tree trims and table ornaments. ($3.98)

Or inlaid blocks form their own greeting cards (20c to $1.75), with a brayer ($1.75) at 99c a tube and Henry Frankendorf's paperback on printmaking.

Also John Lidstone's great texts: "Building Things With Balls a Wood," and "Building Things With Cardboard." Photos of youngsters at work illustrate the projects steps. ($4.95)

Center has a pale green crepe with a jeweled collar, sleeveless and high waisted, with a front panel for fullness. ($70.) Or for the goddess look, a white, partially-lined sheer by Mr. Mort with gold and silver trim that flows from the neckline, crossing in the front and circling the waist in a high waistline. ($70.)

There's also a long, pale pink with a scoop neckline trimmed in pearls and deep pink stitching (unisex size $125). And for juniors, a deep rose velvet with pale pink satin at the collar and belt. ($70.)

The English Shop on Nassau Street is where you'll find romantic black velvet ponis ($18) and a long velvet skirt in dove grey (also in black). This is part of the Koret of California line of mix-and-match things for at home. We noticed their white brocade jacket with a stand-up collar and tiny pearl buttons. ($25.) Our favorite in the glamour section is a cul-vervet two-piece dress with a high collar and dreamy touches of lace. It's very feminine. (in mauve or black, $45.)

Elegant Fabrics, Gretchen's has bronzes and the puff "Clocades" in extraordinarily lovely designs. Imagine a su-per white satin with aqua flowers outlined in gold — very regal and Marie Antoinette. ($7.00) Or a pink cloche — not too pale or deep, with the gold design forming puffed flowers. ($8.00.)

How about sequin knit in either black or white (the white is iridescent), perfect to wear with a long velvet skirt or culottes for at home. It would make a great top for a theatre or evening suit. ($13.00.)

For those who like simpler material, there's rayon more at $1.50/yd in soft shades, or real silk moire at $3.50/yd. And if you are hunting for one-of-a-kind fabrics, Gretchen has imported India silk in approximately 3 yd. lengths. ($13.00/yd)

One is a rose and-burgundy print of birds, another a copper and orange print of figures taken from the walls of caves. They are lovely.

At the Fabric Center, on Witherspoon street, you'll find beau de soie with a dull satin finish — and in about 25 different shades. Some are ex-quitely embroidered. We liked a white eyelash crepe with saucy little tassels dangling from embroidered bar-strings.

Lee Mogland and Eric May have put in a big supply of velvet and velveteens at the Fabric Center. The colors range from delicate to brilliant. Their lovely brocades, lames and metallic thread fabrics range in price from $1.98 to $5.95 per yard.

Accessories. Great for a tie-back hair-do are the four-way mini scarves at Landau's.

When Grandma's On Your List —

She's a little hard to buy for because she won't give you any hints. "I have everything I could possibly need," she says often enough. But perhaps there's something here.

Louise Mass: Attractive equipment chests, filled with 1½ lbs. of hard candy and equipped with a key "because older people want some things locked up." Old Dominion Scotch biscuits for tea, in beautiful tin containers.

English Shop: Mohair scarf, almost shawl size, and soft as a baby's hair. Comes in pastel and heather tones ($12). Nassau Dept. Assorted cheeses, imported by Daube, Hawthorne, N. Y., 24 little samplers, attractively packed. ($4.50) Sarotti's very fine fine chocolates, large and small boxes.

Country Mouse: a needlework bag (for carry-all) made in heavy linen in charming English country prints ($4.95 and $6.05); or the Cape Cod Colonial candle set . . . slim candles with a low holder and floral wreath, some Christmasy, some not. ($2.50 and $5).

There came in an abstract pattern, leaning towards stripes, with green, or blue or pink predominant. ($1.25) The mini scarf also makes a headband, an ascot, and a soft, collar-line wrap around.

Landau's also has the warm and very pretty chalets carved in Liberty-type prints or with small flowers. ($2.50) They have a Swiss feeling to them. For formal occasions, you'll be interested in the tiny black purse with a gold chain bracelet for a handle — at Stacy's ($18). Or their tortoise shell purse with gold hinges — it's very different and nicely matched. This is one of those curious purses that can be used either when you're dressed to the nines or when you're wearing your tweedy country look. ($3.00)

There's an amusing selection of jewelry at the English Shop: a whimsical gold duck with ruby eyes to pin on someone's dress ($5.); enamel ladybugs on a thin gold chain for the young set ($4.); choice blue or yellow or red, and a very beautiful butterfly gold filigree ($5.)

And at Cummins they have jewelry and flowered pins, and oodles of pierced earrings. "We have them, for every body in Princeton," they are priced from $2 to $30.

Here, too, you'll find such costume additions as the Cleopatra collars of gold pointed, beaded necklaces with green, blue and amber stones; massive, almost medieval jewelry, and very contemporary things. It's a great one-stop shop for earrings and such.

Around
The House

Down at Bowden's Fireplace Shop you'll find tremendously real fireplace logs that give off a warm and true-to-life looking gas fire. Mr. Bowden is very proud of these Real-Fire logs, and he has reason to be. You can choose of golden oak, or driftwood, or twisted cypress, or South Pacific Tiki logs, even partially burned in appearance. They nest on a burner, and once you get them going, you'll never have to carry wood again, or sweep the fireplace, or scoop up ashes.

And for those who hate to give up charcoal cooking just because there's snow on the ground, Bowden's carry the delectable "Grilladler" — on an adjustable pole that fits any fireplace, and can be used later by your patio or on a camping trip.

The Bowden andirons are intriguing. You'll see the complete Portland Willamette line of andirons, fireplace tools, screens, wood carriers, self-grates — anything you need. There's a very handsome pair of black cast-iron dogs to hold your logs (19.95); and a reproduction of Sheraton brass andirons ($64).

You may need a Cape Cod lighter — or know someone who does. This helps to light the fire with kerosene and eliminates all those crushed newspapers. In brass or brass.

with black trim $7 to $9.30 at Bowden's.
And a heart brooch — see Bowden's witch baby in red ($2.75).

Do You Need A Rug? The Remnant King has two great rugs for a child's room (1) three adorable cats on a soft, rich, deep green background; $15; (2) a jaunty clown dancing among colorful balloons against a beige background; $20. They are so pretty that you'll want to hang them on the wall instead of walking on them, but they're lightly worn and would wear well. Size about 3x2.

If you're entertaining informally or have a new bride on your list, think about a wall-to-wall, pure cotton rug for the bathroom that can be laundered in the machine. It has a skid-resistant rubber back and there are easy instructions for installation. The colors are green, blue, yellow, orange, red, aqua, to name a few. A 5x9 size is $10.

For the kitchen there's an interesting carpeting that simulates bricks — it comes in green, cream or red. Also a Dutch tile design in blue. Both are guaranteed to make life easier — stains wipe up — no more scrubbing and waxing. Made by Kitchen Classics at $8.88/sq. yd.

The Remnant King also has those bright-colored rugs from the Princess collection — woven patterns, some with added sculptured effect to the pile. Particularly joyous is "Fantasy," with its swirls of blues, greens and oranges. Another is a sunburst — hot red and oranges down to pure yellow.

What This Room Needs . . .
There comes a time when you scan your house with a cool eye. If this has hit you, stop out at the Furniture Barn on Route 1 at the Dutch Neck circle and see its early American furniture and accessories.

They have a solid cherry drop desk, finished with the wonderful glow of cherry grain. It has many slots to help organize even the most scatter-brained of us all, and four roomy drawers. ($179.)

And for parties, a solid pine bar — five feet long, ($185.) Equip it with bar stools of pine ($29.95 ea.) and a bar lamp. ($9.95) Or, if you're so inclined, a tiny wine-taster's table that makes a very presentable end table when it's not serving its original purpose. Square, quite small, but with four pull-out "platforms" one on each side. ($89.95)

One thing Jack Kennedy did for all of us was to point out the merits of the rocking chair, and the Furniture Barn has them in solid cherry, with upholstered seat and back, and covered in a red plaid. ($143.) Other fabrics, of course.

Also in cherry is a set of three tables . . . the two larger tables are rectangular and the smallest is round. ($120.)

Most of the accessories are reproductions, nice for gifts. In pine, for instance, a spoon rack for 18 spoons ($6.95); a three-level spice rack ($8.95) and lots of scences — either

"O, That Wonderful Tree!"

Everyone's Christmas tree is a little bit different — one of the charms of the season. You'll see some new ideas for trim this year as you browse the shops:

Cummings: Clear glass ornaments that reflect the tree lights in muted colors; in round and oval shapes with tiny scenes inside ($5 to $8); and golden bows that clip on the tree branch, perfect for a one-of-a-kind tree ($15 each.)

Stuff 'n Nonsense (Moore Street) — small wood-carvings of a stylized nativity scene, round skirted little angels playing violins, lutes and cellos ($1.75)

Applegate Floral Shop: Covered Christmas balls, sparkling with stones and ribbons, hand made by Diana Dwyer who turns out only about 50 a year.

Country Mouse: Snowbirds to perch on your tree (69c), and red, plushy apples (39c ea. or 12 for $3); or an arrogant red bird with jeweled wings (and a gold-winged blackbird, no less) at 79c; and while we're on birds, C. Mouse has a white dove of peace, his wings high, coming in for a landing. ($2.25) electric or for candles.

The Furniture Barn has a wide selection of lamps suitable for American themes — we noticed porcelain bases with painted floral design ($41.95); a decoy duck supporting a green burlap shade, and a tall base with a copy of the Declaration of Independence wrapped around. It's nice to be reminded.

Down Witherspoon Street is The Orient Shop where you can replenish and augment your hostess supplies. For the absent-minded, a set of six fondue forks, each wooden handle tipped in a different color. ($2.95)

A red owl cutting board ($1.95) for the kitchen or at a bar for cutting lenses caught our eye, as did the sets of four canape trays, about 3x6 in size (inches) and decorated in a manner that reminds you of the flourishes and scrolls of medieval manuscripts.

For appetizers, you'll find a brown wooden pig with six cocktail picks in his back, each with a bead of a piglet. It's a whimsy, at $2.95.

Ice buckets come in walnut and wicker, lined with plastic insulation. With tongs, too, at $15. We noticed nearby, the attractive fish-headed cork screw bottle and bottle openers, made of wood and easy to grasp. ($1.50 the set)

Hostess aprons and smocks at the Orient Shop are as fresh and pretty as can be. One very appealing apron is of lime green with blue trim. Others are bright prints. ($3.95 & $4.95) Very nice for sheltering your party dress while you turn the meat.

Colorful "Christmas tree" dishes of Spode are to be found at Cummings Shop. Made by Copeland and Colburnton

GALLERY 100

ONE DAY ONLY

Saturday, November 30

An exhibition of original prints by classic and contemporary artists will be presented by Ferdinand Roten Galleries of Baltimore at Gallery 100 on November 30. Exhibit hours 9:30-5:30.

Priced $5 through $100, the exhibit will include approximately 1,000 original etchings, lithographs and woodcuts by such artists as Picasso, Chagall, Miro, Renoir, Goya, Baskin, Kollwitz and many others.

Also on display will be a collection of outstanding western and oriental manuscript pages from works of the 13th-20th Centuries.

A representative of Roten Galleries, Andrew Robinson, will be present at the exhibition to answer any questions the public may have regarding graphic art and printmaking.

And Everything Nice

Christmas orders come rolling into Louise Maas' candy shop on Palmer Square before Thanksgiving, which is a clue for you.

Traditional ribbon candy comes boxed in assorted colors. (A woman last year wanted a box of the candy in shocking pink to go with her tree. "I just didn't have it!" Miss Maas says.)

You'll find — for the kids — gingerbread men and gingerbread Santas, and lots of Christmas novelties. We liked the hanging gold bell with candles inside and the drummer boys and especially the angels. All with candies.

There are very delicious maple sugar Santas and milk chocolate Dutch shoes to stuff in their stockings.

Louise Maas's supply of Old Dominion biscuits and candies is very attractive — a hunt

Sew A Little Glamour Into The Holidays

The shops are filled with elegant and beautiful fabrics and the patterns are thankfully simple this year. You will have time to make a special dress.

Fabric Center (Witherspoon Street): supple silk-and-worsted that never wrinkle (15 colors); metallic brocades; delicate "burned out" silk organza ($2.49/yd.).

Fabric Shop (Chambers Street) Hawaiian "flower power" silk-like prints, $2.98 and $3.98/yd. (maybe for the wide, wide pants that flow as you walk.) Also party brocades for teens.

Gretchen's (Hightstown, Rt. 130) Creamy beige brocade with a sparkling gold-thread leaf design ($7/yd.); or a gorgeous skirt — pink with gold metallic stripes running lengthwise. ($12/yd.)

Fabric Find (194 Nassau) Exotic handloomed India silk — beautiful just to look at — or for the simplest kind of dress. ($30.); French woolen mohair for hostess skirts in jewel colors ($25/yd.)

scene, four roses, a sunburst. She carries a fine grade of fruitcakes, both the individuals and the pound and up.

There are delicious bacci cherries made by Perugini of Italy, as well as assorted chocolates. Perugini wraps each candy in foil of different color, making an extremely attractive gift. Their beautiful tin containers are unsold by advertising. (About $1.45.)

The 2 1/2 lb. tin of Rosemarie de Paris hard candies has nine sections, each separately ordered, looking pretty good. A customer has just ordered 15 boxes. (So get yours soon) $2.95.

Dietetic candies are hard to find, but Louise Maas has them, as well as dietetic cookies and ice-cream. The chocolate bark candies have cashews in some, almonds or brazil nuts in others. There's no sugar or salt.

Another hard-to-find item stocked by Miss Maas is chocolate covered ginger. You can also buy orange peel, prunes or pineapple — all chocolate covered.

Her cookies are so great that a Princeton doctor has ordered 40 lbs. for Christmas giving. All shapes, sizes, varieties, all terribly good.

The Nassau Delicatessen, if you know good food, needs no introduction. Its store at 1 Palmer Square is brimming with special gifts for gourmet food lovers. We even noticed a dietetic assortment of hard candies, petit fours, almond chocolate wafers, cookies and milk chocolates, each attractively packaged in a large box ready for mailing.

Many of the gourmet cheese items are packed in or on containers that have year-round usefulness. Such as the Dutchess assortment of cheese and spreads in wedges on a large square leak tray. Six steinbock varieties form a wheel at the center. ($8.25).

Danish cheese packed by Creusa comes in a six sided blue box, and includes spread with curry and another blend with a smoke flavor. ($3.)

A wooden carrier with a center divided is filled with three jars of jelly and 10 varieties of cheese. It would make a handy server for various crackers and toasts at cocktail time. ($5.50) Imported by Dutchess.

There are some very contemporary designs in the packaging by Creusa, using green, orange and blues in stripes and solids. The cheeses are packed on a brown walnut board ($5 and $3) and on a white enamel tray with jellies included ($6.50).

We also liked the "Jam Jars," packs of six or nine little jars for breakfast variety: plum preserve, concord grape, port wine, sherry, apple blackberry, many others. ($2.25 and $3.)

Over on the candy side the choices are bewildering. Be sure you see the very new chocolate cups to fill with liqueur or cordial. You sip the drink and nibble the cup. A package of 16 in gold foil servers ($1.95) and there's a larger size in 12 to a box.

The Nassau Del has those English plum puddings from Peck, Fenn — one and two pound sizes, available boxed for mailing or simply wrapped ($8 and $1.65.)

The famous Bahlsen cookies from West Germany are available in boxed or packaged assortments. There's Christolien (cake), assorted Leibkuchen biscuits, some iced, cut in shapes of stars, trees and mushrooms — others chocolate filled. All wonderfully good.

Do you suffer from toy-shopping anxiety? I have 24 years experience in the toy field and I can help you select a suitable gift for a boy or girl of any age. Our selection of toys and games is the largest in the Princeton area. If it's popular, we'll have it! Also that unusual toy. Incidentally, if you are tired of fighting cramped aisles, some of the most mentioned features of our storewide expansion and remodeling this fall are our extra wide aisles, attractive displays and eye-level shelves which make shopping quick and easy. I am here to assist you every day. In addition all the clerks at Zinder's are polite and eager to serve you. Toy shopping needn't be a nerve-wrecking experience. If you find you are shopping more and enjoying it less, I would like to suggest an easier and quicker way would be to shop at Zinder's. Take advantage of our experience, roominess, wide selection and competitive prices. Shop Zinder's for toys and put the joy back in your shopping — and you can change it with Uni-card.

Among them in the way of clothes:

A low, scoop-necked jumper in plaid with a lamé-shimmer to match and a dressy blouse, flourishing white lace on the flip-tie collar and at the cuffs. (Sizes 5-13, $10.00 at Robert Hall.) The plaid includes blue-with-beige; yellow-with grey, or red-with-navy.

Or a knit dress with the belt worn low. The white top is long-sleeved, and the navy skirt has a jaunty flare, accented by two rows of seven tiny gold buttons down the front. ($8.99, Robert Hall.)

Maybe she'd love (we did) Stacy's peasant dress in a metallic fabric with an oriental look. Long-sleeved, scoop neckline and the color is blue-green with gold. ($4.5).

Or an infinitely small mouse hero coat, (sized 12-24) at Stacy's. In nighties (the mini is longer than the baby doll, in case you're uncertain as we were), Stacy's has a mini to match a very feminine short-sleeved top of cotton quilting, with tiny navy and white flower print against a green background, accented with beige lace at the collar and cuffs. It is lined in blue. The nightie is quilted with - white bib and white cuffs.

A go-with-everything skirt is the good-looking wrap with braid trim at Landau's. It comes in camel with brown, green with camel, grey with navy. ($15.99) And here's a good place to shop for those plain and striped turtle-neck. Landau has them in every color imaginable, either in nylon or domestic wool. ($7.99).

Mr. Landau has also gone in for imported kilts this year — not that he'd wear one himself. We especially liked the dress Thomson (predominately blue) and the dress Macleod (yellow with black.) There are imported turtle necks to go with these, as soft as can be, including a gorgeous dusty blue.

You'll find Lyle & Scott's new turtle-neck in three-toned narrow stripes at the English Shop. ($17.) Skirts to go with them come in sizes 6 to 16.

At Bailey's in the Princeton Shopping Center are some very attractive pants suits, made by American Bazaar. We loved the gold wool with a double row of gold buttons down the front of the three-quarter length jacket. There's a partial belt, down low, and the pants have a nice flare below the knee. The jacket is shaggy-lined for extra warmth. ($55)

Another was a rich brown plaid, gently crossbarred in rust and beige. The coat is long enough to wear alone. It's

"I'm Always Good!"

Goodies for children, to buy early while they're still on the shelves. (Now, where're you going to hide them?)

Cummins Shop: Music boxes — Santa and his sleigh on a merry-go-round, or a Swing chalet with a water wheel, a carousel that plays "Parade of the Wooden Soldiers," or a circus clown ($14).

Nassau Deli: chocolate figures covered in bright foil a rocket with a nearby moon; a set of three scotchies; a truck pulling five little cars. Also boxes of lollipops with amusing faces — all reasonably priced.

Lookee Mass: Gingerbread houses about 12" high, snow-icing on the roof, candies on the stutters and Santa in the doorway. ($6.)

Thorpe's Pharmacies: lollipops with flowers in the center (15¢), and clear candy toys to hang on their tree (60¢ for a package) belted low, the way the girls like them, with patch pockets and warm lining. The pants are in the same plaid, with a flare at the ankle, slightly.

We also saw at Bailey's a several very feminine blouses, both with romantically gathered long sleeves:

The white slat, with high rolled collar also comes in beige or lavender. Three dainty, self-covered buttons at the cuff. ($7.99) Open-work cotton, cleverly handled, has lace at the cuff, and at the trim of the deep V-neck yoke, and again at the Mao collar. (Very charming especially with velvet.)

And over in Happy House, at the Shopping Center, we found quint treasure chests for jewelry — blackened wood, accented with nail studs and ornate hamp. The three section tray in the top lifts out. The chests, brightly lined, come in two sizes, priced $6.99 and $9.99.

We also noticed closest accessories — scent hangers ($2); sockset — and - bedery cases ($2.50); and a hanging lingerie bag — all made of fresh-looking gingham checks, with little lace and daisy accents, very charming.

Gifts For Your Mother-in-law

How about a round, cork bulletin board on a base. It rotates, comes with colored push pins for attaching reminders and has holes in the top for five gold pencils, which come with it. At Stacy's, Law-seneville Shopping Center.

A wig should intrigue her. Stacy's has them in a synthetic from $12 to $36—lots of styles and a shades of hair. (On different wigs, that is.)

A Harris tweed coat... Landau's on Nassau has them up to from size 4 petite to 24½. ($50.) Cut in the ever-popular single breasted style, with plain or notched collar.

Store Your Tree

You won't believe it until you see it—a Christmas tree too real for words that can be taken apart, branch by branch and stored flat until next year.

Cummins Shop has them in 4 ft. and 6 ft. sizes, made of polyethylene, and as bushy and natural as can be. You can forget about saving up nine needles. ($16 and $36)

One of these trees has been put together, a branch at a time as gifts were packed for the Machine's Christmas in Vietnam, "Operation China Beach,"—each branch representing 500 gifts. You can see it over at Trinity.

Raquel Welch appears as a rich alcoholic, and Martin Gabel as an ex-Mafia chief. There's an ex-con who hires Sinatra to find his missing girl, plenty of nudity and lots of rough language. There's a relatively funny scene in a mortuary, with Sinatra resting in a casket while a crap game goes full blast.

Misa Welch whose figure is so beautiful that her acting doesn't matter, is a plus—especially in a short suede costume. Other assets are a strong supporting cast, including Richard Conte and Laine Kazan.

NEW STRAND

The Graduate (now playing) is a witches' brew of ideas and things: the youth scene of affluent society, the world of those who have an opportunity to get a good education but don't know why, the restless, acquisitive woman. Add to that the brilliant direction of Mike Nichols, the consistently fine acting of Anne Bancroft, the music of Simon and Garfunkel, and a surprise ingredient, a mod Dustin Hoffman, and you have the formula for one of today's most successful films.

With "The Graduate," New Strand will be showing a short film "Where Have All The Flowers Gone," written and sung by Pete Seeger.

GARDEN

Camelot (held over, note change in showtime) has much on which to feast the eyes from the opening wintry forest scene (the snow is not cold in Camelot) to the "lusty month of May" when the whole court frolics.

Perhaps Franco Nero's Lancelot du Lac may fall short of the ideal romantic lover, but Richard Harris makes a satisfyingly kingly figure, no less commanding for his warm human qualities.

And Vanessa Redgrave is totally captivating as Guenevere—intelligent, mercurial, beautiful in a fine-drawn airy way. (She has 40 costume changes.) One first sight of her, wearing a white cloak, hooded and furred, sets the mood of fantasy.

It is an unorthodox and whimsical version of the legend of Arthur, based on T. H. White's "The Once and Future King." Among the beautiful melodies is the title song which is sung and played in the background at intervals throughout the film.

It's New To Us

Surprise her with a champagne bottle filled with individually wrapped round cordial cherries from Louise Maas, Palmer Square. ($4.95)

Possibly a black walnut salad bowl, about the right size for the whole family gatherings. Comes with wooden fork and spoon, flat topped at the ends. The bowl is a very intriguing mosaic of irregularly shaped pieces of walnut. ($13.95 the set. at Happy House.)

Also at Happy House is a dazzling array of tote trays. You'll find it hard to choose among them. They have the open slot at ends for your fingers, and fairly high sides—some of the open work. ($5 to $9.95)

And if she's as contemporary as can be, she will be pleased with the daisy tray, about 13" wide, cut on the outer rim to fit the petals radiating from the center. Made of thick but light plastic—and very gay. ($7.95)

Bulley's has some soft robes with cone necks and gold rope belts. Comes in olive green or American beauty rose, and is made of brushed rayon fleece. ($8.99). And over to these, you'll see a psychedelic print in a jump suit, with a bushy look to the pile. The pants are as wide as an evening skirt.

News Of The Theatres

He's set for money after selling LSD to his friends. Seven years later, with a changed name and a fortune from fans who attend his shows and buy his records, he lives with a bunch of weirdos and loves only children.

Hal Holbrook, running for Senate, persuades him to appear on a telecast and he makes a successful appeal for lowering the voting age to 14. Well, later on, he's elected president and puts through age 30 compulsory retirement. Citizens who don't want to retire are forced to.

The film's premise is that youth influences everything else, everything these days and that their sphere will grow. It is cleverly put together, the acting is judicious and the use of color is an added plus. It is an "in" picture with the youngsters.

PRINCE

Lady in Cement (now playing) is a campy gangster film, with Frank Sinatra surrounded with girls aplenty.

Sinatra, as Private Eye Tony Rome, is driving for sunken treasure off the coast of Miami, when he comes face to face with a dead nude blonde, her feet encased in cement. He reports the murder to the Coast Guard ("It's a hazard to navigation?") they want to know.

News of Clubs and Organizations

Women's College Club of Princeton: 1:30, Monday, at the All Saints Chapel. The topic of the December meeting will be "Women with Careers." The speakers are: Mrs. James Hillier, a professional florist; Mrs. George E. Bush, director of a French camp for girls and an artist and writer of children's books; Mrs. Leslie Perrine, owner of a gift shop; and Mrs. Norman R. Stoll, a social service executive and former director of the Iran Foundation. Hostesses for the day will be Mrs. Frederick E. Peike, Mrs. Lowell E. Norton, Mrs. Joseph S. Thomas, and Mrs. Gino R. Treves.

The Princeton Branch of the American Association of University Women will hold its annual Holiday Fellowship Dinner at 7 p.m., Wednesday, December 4, in the Prince William Room of the Nassau Inn. Professor Bernard Indig, associate professor and assistant to the dean of the Graduate School of Social Work at Rutgers University, will address the group.

Dr. Indig is an economist, a specialist in Industrial Relations and a clinical psychologist. His subject will be "Data in Black and White," concerning the Newark riots. Dr. Indig served as a consultant to the Kerner Commission for their report on the riots. The chairman for the Fellowship dinner is Mrs. John Dismukes, assisted by the hospitality chairman, Mrs. Robert Jacobson.

Hadassah will hold its "Cafe Israel" at 6:30 p.m., Wednesday, December 4, at the Jewish Center. The public is invited to this event and wine and refreshments will be served. Showana Fuchs will perform and explain several Israeli folk songs. The event also will include Charlotte Goldstein's presentation of the annual supply shower, which helps to pay for the linen used in the Hadassah hospital.

GOVERNOR AND MRS. HUGHES VISIT MERWICK: Governor and Mrs. Richard J. Hughes examine the parallel bars at Merwick, Princeton Hospital's extended care unit at 59 Bayard Lane. Hospital Administrator John W. Kauffman tonight conducted the tour and explained the use of equipment in the department of physical medicine and rehabilitation.

NOTICE

Those wishing to have articles published in the "News of Clubs and Organizations" column should submit them no later than noon Monday, the week of publication. Earlier copy will be appreciated.

Any one interested in buying fresh Georgia pecans should contact one of the following club members: Mrs. Samuel Goldfarb, 69 Baham Lane; Miss Emily Post, 90 Westcott Road; Mrs. Sigurd Peterson, 254 Jefferson Road; Mrs. Ronald Rogers, Clarksville Road, Princeton Junction; Mrs. Alfred Meiss, 14 North Main Street, Cranbury; and Mrs. Robert Witley, 50 Pincknoll Drive, Lawrenceville.

The Montgomery Women's Club will hold its "Christmas Carole Shoppe" from 10-1 Saturday, December 7, at the Harlingen Community House. The event will feature home made gifts for men, women and children, a display of home decorations, and a sale of homemade holiday delicacies. All items to be sold at the Shoppe have been made by members of the club. Santa Claus will be on hand to entertain the children.

Littlebrook P.T.O. will hold a coffee at 8 p.m., Wednesday, December 4, at the home of Mrs. and Mrs. Richard Cobb, 195 Clover Lane. Lloyd Taylor, principal, will be present at the coffee which is open to all parents of children attending Littlebrook School.

Young Women's Christian Association of Princeton has scheduled a Christmas coffee from 10 to 12, Wednesday, December 4, at Avalon Place in the lounge. The annual coffee, opened to members and friends of the YWCA, is sponsored by the board of directors. Nursery care will be available.

Nassau Cooperative Nursery School has planned its annual Snowboard for Wednesday, December 4, at the Friends' First Day Meeting House, Quaker Bridge Road.

Here's a way to eliminate 10¢ and 15¢ toll charges on calls to New Jersey telephone numbers. It's a new service called Selective Calling, and it's available right now.*

Here's how it works for individual-line residence customers. You select the 10- or 15-cent New Jersey exchange areas served by New Jersey Bell when you call or would like to call frequently. You pay an additional small fixed monthly charge for each exchange selected. Then you can make as many calls as you wish to those exchanges at no extra cost.

The monthly rate for the first exchange you select ranges from $1.25 to $2.50. Additional exchanges cost only 25¢ to $1.50.

Wouldn't you like to talk long and often to friends or family living in these 10- or 15-cent exchange areas? And talk happily without toll charges? If so, Selective Calling makes it very easy and economical to do just that.

A similar Selective Calling plan is available at different rates to customers with business phones.

For more information, please call your Telephone Business Office.

SELECTIVE CALLING: another new service from New Jersey Bell that can save you money.

* Selective Calling is available in most areas of New Jersey.

Qualification For Voting Membership In The Princeton Hospital Corporation

Notice is hereby given of the requirements for voting membership in the Princeton Hospital Corporation in accordance with the By-Laws of Princeton Hospital as amended at the annual meeting of the Corporation held on February 25, 1963.

ARTICLE II — VOTING MEMBERSHIP

1. The annual payment by any person, of not less than $5.00 directly to the Princeton Hospital Membership Fund, during the calendar year preceding the annual election, shall entitle such person to make nominations for the office of Trustee, to one vote for each vacancy in the Board of Trustees, which may be filled at any annual meeting, and to vote upon other business which may come before any annual or special meeting of the Corporation during the calendar year of the annual election.
2. The payment by any person of $100.00 or more directly to the Princeton Hospital Membership Fund shall entitle such person to life membership in the corporation and to all other privileges of voting membership without further payment.
3. Notices relative to the membership requirements of the Corporation shall be mailed to all members on or before November 1 of each year.
4. There is no age limitation on membership. In order to be eligible to vote, however, all members, whether annual or life members, must be at least 21 years of age.

This notice is not a solicitation but is published to inform the public of qualifications for voting membership in the Corporation.

"HE HAD THE WHOLE JOB TO HIMSELF." Everybody gave him support but they were just talking, says Deeder Price in commenting on the resignation of PHIS Principal Kenneth Michael. Les Reich believes Mr. Michael may be too much of an idealist but he thinks very highly of him as a man. (Staff Photo)

Question Of The Week

Question. What is your reaction to the announcement that Principal Kenneth Michael plans to resign?

Where asked: Princeton High School.

DeeDee Prince, 80 Wheat-sheer Lane, senior: I really think it's too bad because he's sort of having to say he gave up. All those problems... he would have been able to resolve them if the faculty, the school board and the students really helped him. As it was, he had the whole job to himself. Everybody gave him support, sure, but they were just talking. They didn't go out and work for him as they should have.

Les Reich, 184 Loomis Court, senior: I think Mr. Michael has quit too soon. He has too idealistic an idea of human nature. People change with time. But you just can't arrive at a really good relationship between black and white students as fast as he expected. You can't just say this is futile; all these things take time. It may be under 50 years or more. Feelings have to change, not just laws. Whatever happens, though, I think very highly of him as a man.

Nancy Gregg, 3½ Madison Street, senior: I feel pretty bad. I think he was a good principal. I'd like to see him stay.

Nancy Rogers, 42 Elm Road, junior: It sort of upset me. I feel he's done a lot for the school but if he says he needs a change, it should be up to him. He shouldn't feel any obligation to the school. I can understand his feelings. It's sad... having so many problems. I wasn't aware things were as bad as they were. He didn't want to resort to the police.

John Hult, 110 Moore Street, sophomore: I'm unhappy about it. I don't think we can get any as good as he was. He said that he didn't think he was doing the job but I don't think he could have done any more than he has.

Carol Hemstock, 137 Balcourt Drive, junior: I think he's perfectly entitled to do whatever he wants. If he wants a change, he should take a change. He's served this school for a number of years and I feel he's been a great principal. He's done a wonderful job. If he feels it is time for him to quit, I can understand and I know he wants everyone else to feel the same way.

Marvin Rosen, 27 Robert Road, sophomore: I feel very badly about it. He is a great guy; he tried to help the school. He is not one of the so-called principals who view the students as the enemy. He is a friend of the students. I wish he would stay on.

Chris Upchurch, 107 Phillips Drive, sophomore: I'm very saddened by the news. He's done a lot for the high school. But we all respect his opinions and we are hoping for the best for him. He announced to us he wanted a change and he thought that Princeton High School needed a change. That's the reason he gave for resigning.

Peter Klopstein, 110 Bayard Lane, senior: I don't like it. I wish he would stay on. I really like him a lot as a principal. I can't believe what he said in TOWN TOPICS that he was quitting because of racial problems. He doesn't seem like the man who would quit just for that. It doesn't seem to be that bad—on the surface—but maybe there is more to it. I don't know. I just wish he would stay.

Any Burger, Westminster Choir College, PHIS junior: I'm upset about it. I just came to Princeton, so I don't know that much about it. What I do know is that I really like him. I hate to see him go. I'll be a senior next year and if a new principal starts upsetting what Mr. Michael has accomplished, the kids will rebel. I've heard big rumors about it already. A lot of my friends feel the same way. If they rebel, I will too.

Gordon Smith, Edinburgh, freshman at Mercer Community College, graduate of PHIS: With all the trouble in the school—racial problems and drug addiction—he felt he was not doing his job. I feel he really is doing the best he can. I've always liked him. I'm sorry to see it happen.

Lynna Duryea, 29 Jefferson Road, freshman: I think he is a great principal, and I hate to see him leave. He said he felt the students needed a change but I don't agree with that. He is just great; he always did his best for us.

Jaec Gallagher, 104 Herrington Road, freshman: I think it is terrible! Such a nice person and such a very good principal. He wasn't prejudiced; he understood the kids. He is kind and I like him very much in the little time that I have known him.

Donna Lindquist, 105 Longview Drive, freshman. We love him. It's so nice. He's done so much for the school. He was so nice, never mean.

Barbara McCulloch, 168 Herrington Road, freshman: I think one reason he quit was that he did so much for the school that he felt he couldn't give anymore. He already tried a lot of things. I'm upset about it and I know a lot of parents are, too.

$1,749*

What's the catch? There isn't any. $1,749* is the suggested retail price of the port of entry for the VW sedan.

The price includes the Federal excise tax and import duty.

It also includes the built-in heater/defroster, windshield washer, electric windshield wipers, outside rearview mirror, potted dash, front seat headrests, and seat belts front and back.

Not to mention the new electric rear-window defogger and the new ignition/steering lock. (When the key is removed, the steering wheel is locked in place.)

It's the price of the real thing, not a stripped-down economy model.

What else do you have to pay? The charge for transporting the car from the port of entry. The dealer delivery charge. And local sales tax.

There is one optional that makes a lot of sense. The automatic shift lift. It eliminates the clutch pedal.)

Well, that's it. Unless, of course, you count the cost of gas and oil it takes you to get here in your present car.

SPORTS in Princeton

TIGERS WIN, GOING AWAY
In Day of Attonement, Princeton's football team, defeated Cornell Saturday, 14 to 13, thereby finishing exactly where form dictated it should—behind the three teams that had beaten it and ahead of the four teams it defeated.

By the time the fanatical wish at Cambridge had been recorded, the final standings were a perfect reflection of the seven teams' respective achievements in 1968. Harvard and Yale, which beat everyone else but couldn't beat each other, tied for the title. Resurgent Penn lost only to these two and clearly earned third place.

Princeton fumbled against the top three but mastered the others with ease to round out first division. Dartmouth, saddled with its first losing season since the league went formal a dozen years ago, likewise lost to each of the teams that finished above it while trimming Columbia, Cornell and Brown.

The Lions, winning when their non-existent ground game was not a handicap, proved superior to Cornell and Brown. When the Ithacans showed they were at least good enough to dominate the Rhode Island ers, 31-0, they took sixth place and the Bruins went into the cellar in hibernation.

For Once, It All Worked. It

SMALL MAN IN A HURRY: Cornell tackle Paul Marucci (77) weighs close to 100 pounds more than 147-lb. Rob Bordley, which is one of the reasons the small Tiger safety man ran a punt past him and 10 other bigger men Saturday. Bordley converted 73 yards to the end zone for Princeton's second TD in 41-13 victory. (TOWN TOPICS Photo by Bob Matthews) the 1968 season will remain a frustrating mystery to Princetonians, at least they had the satisfaction of rebounding from defeat in four of their last five games by winning big. That the opposition was substantially below par mattered little—much of the Cornell personnel had participated in the 1973 triumph at Ithaca last year, and victory did pave the way in a final first-division berth in the standings.

Offensively, the Tigers not only did just about everything right but they did a good deal. Way on one afternoon that they had in their eight previous outings. They ran so well (354 yards) that passing for distance was not requisite to success, but they had a team average of highly-satisfactory 30% and no interceptions. Rob Bordley ran the season's first punt return for a TD 74 yards to the end zone and when he averaged better than 30 yards on the kicks that Cornell did not deliberately angle out of bounds, he flashed a welcome weapon for the Tigers' 1969 arsenal.

Princeton linemen blocked a punt for the first time this year, and they did so against the Ivies' leading kicker, Bill Arthur, who had not suffered a similar fate all fall. The number of penalties was reduced to three, and while they cost 35 yards, none erased an important gain.

On the ground, the scoring runs were frequently long and picturesque. Bordley's—a savvy, twisting, burst down the left sideline—was the day's jewel but fullback Ellis Moore opened proceedings with a 24-yard shot through the middle and sophomore tailback Brian McCullough sailed 35 yards round end in the third period, combining good blocks and superb tackle-busting effort. At 180, he brought with the impact of a player 30 pounds heavier. The Tigers had the sign post—Continued on Next Page figged and pointing in their direction by the time they had gotten their hands on the ball twice. The first time, they drove 75 yards in eight plays, capped by Moore's TD, and the second time brought forth Bordley's scoring journey.

A defensive lapse that saw Cornell's Dick Furubush get beyond the Tiger secondary for a 70-yard pass play narrowed the gap to 147 but Moore got his second touch-down and McCullough the first of his three to make it 27-7 at the intermission. McCullough's last two highlighted the third period, and another long pass beyond the secondary gave the losers their second score just before the game ended.

BASKETBALL TO START

First Three Games Away. The 1968-69 basketball season will begin Tuesday, December 3, for Princeton in as tough a location as the eastern seaboard provides. The opposition, too, will be rugged—Villanova playing in its Mainline field house, a somewhat intimate gymnasium where the fans' behavior has been known to interrupt the flow of the action. The following Saturday, December 7, the Tigers will play Duke in Madison Square Garden, the locale selected for the game when it was determined that the new Jadwin Cage will not be available until some time next year. Thereafter, it will be a trip to College Park to face Maryland on December 11. The home season will open—in Dillon Gym—Saturday night, December 14, against Navy. (For the Tigers' complete schedule, see pages 38 and 39.)

Princeton this year has hopes of regaining the Ivy title it lost last winter to Columbia, but off its inconsistent play ranks no better than even with Cornell as the two teams figured to have the best shot at dethroning the Lions. It will take a super performance on the Tigers' part to finish on top, because the final weekend of the season sends them against Columbia and Cornell away from home.

The big question mark is the big man—6-9 Chris Thomas, who had a disappointing season as a junior after showing considerable promise in his first year on the varsity. Faith in his real potential was shaken by his teammates last spring when they elected him captain. Thomforde averaged 13 points per game as a sophomore, but tailed off to 12.2 last winter and was occasional outplayed by centers who

First Three Games to 1969

Princeton's 1969 football season will open at home against Colgate on October 18. For the first time in 100 years, the Tigers will play three games on the road before seeing action in Palmer Stadium.

The precedent is being set to permit playing the game with Rutgers in New Brunswick, where the two universities launched the sport in November, 1869. Nationwide television of the September 27th game is a possibility.

Contests with Columbia at New York and Cornell at Ithaca will follow. Thereafter, the Tigers will play five of their last six games at home, meeting Colgate, Penn and Brown here, traveling to Cambridge to face Harvard on November 8, and finishing with Yale and Dartmouth.

gave several inches away to him. Overall, the Tigers were 20-6 last season, losing the Ivy title to Columbia in a playoff after finishing in a 12-2 tie.

Petry Goes up Front. Princeton's chances for success will hinge to some extent on the outcome of Coach Pete Carril's decision to move Junior Geoff Petry up front to work with Thomforde and 6-7 John Hummer. It's a natural switch—Petry had been a front court player until paired with Joe Heiser last season—but it will change the two corners in the back court and thrust one of them in the role of playmaker.

That would be John Arbo, a 6-11 junior who has shown considerable ball-handling ability. He will be paired with one of two sophomores, Eric Neuman or Bill Sickler. Neuman's brother Jeff was All-Ivy at Penn for three years earlier in the decade.

Others from last year's 9-8 freshman team who are on the squad include Scott Early, a 220-lb. 6-3 front-court replacement; 6-3 Ed Sloneczek; 6-3 Jerry Coleman; and 6-4 Jim Bright. Tom Chestnut, a 6-4 senior, will see action and is, incidentally, the only other member of the Class of '69 in addition to Thomforde. If the three can make this season a good one, they should repeat a year later.

The Princeton losses are Heiser, top scorer for the past two seasons and last winter the nation's leading four shooter with a .800 average; and John Haarrow, a 6-7 forward and three-year regular. Bench strength also graduated in the person of Dave Lawyer, the team's sixth man and an occasional starter; chunky Steve Tajcic, a solid asset in the back court; and 6-3 John Dodd, used quite frequently in a reserve capacity. Also gone from the picture is 6-8 Mike Mardy, who saw some action as a sophomore but did not report this fall.

Tigers' 4-M Club Could Mean '69 Ivy Title

Ellis Moore, a fullback who averages better than four yards a carry and in two seasons has scored 16 touchdowns; Chris Montgomery, a fullback who was converted from tailback and therefore can run with speed and pass accurately; Scott MacBean, an experienced tailback whose two-year pass completion average is close to 60%; Brian McCullough, the rushing and individual scoring leader as sophomore in the Ivy League in a year when Brian Dowling, Calvin Hill and Marty Domes got virtually all the headlines.

How far will Princeton's 4-M Club take the Tigers next fall?

To begin with, the Ivy League itself will have a somewhat different appearance than it has had this year. Scheduled to graduate 26 seniors, and bolstered by sophomore freshman classes for the past two seasons, Yale is unlikely to finish in first division.

The favorite should be co-champion Harvard. The Crimson, too, will lose heavily by graduation — primarily, nine of the 11 starters on its fine defensive platoon, as well as Captain Vito Gallo and five other regulars on offense. However, it has been years since a freshman class of below average football ability multitalented at Cambridge and years since the Crimson finished out of first division.

Pennsylvania can be counted on to find the upper levels to its liking after this year's third place finish. Quarterback Bernie Zbrzezny, who led a sizeable corps of lettermen back to mingle with one of the best freshmen squads in the Ivy League.

Dartmouth, too, should be a major factor in the 1969 race. The Indians' losses will be light, they will have two experienced quarterbacks in Bill Koenig and Jim Chasey, and their freshman team whipped Harvard's, four touchdowns to one.

Columbia, which fielded a good freshman squad for the first time in years, should have a better balance but has no immediate replacement for Domes. Brown, too, had a solid freshman crop but there is perennial weakness at Providence that one strong class cannot overcome. Cornell, normally at least a dark horse possibility, appears in for a lean year or two off the calibre of its current varsity and the fact that a number of its better players are seniors. Figure the Ithacans, Yale, Columbia and Brown as the probable second division teams.

Princeton? The elements for a drive to the top appear to be there. There is better than usual strength returning on defense, the unit Heiser, Hyland to Coach Heiser will be back in Dillon Gym this season as coach of the Princeton jayvees. He is currently teaching at Trenton High.

Art Hyland, captain of the 1963 Ivy champions, has been named freshman coach. As assistant in the sport here for the past four years, he succeeds Eddie Donovan, who has directed Tiger first-year football since 1951. Donovan will serve as Carril's assistant until February, when he will switch to his duties as baseball coach.

PHIS TIES MADISON 28-28 Little Tigers End 4-4-1. In a game that mirrored the in-and-out performance this season of the Princeton High School football team, the Little Tigers went ahead twice and then came from behind twice to the visiting Madison Township Saturday, 28-28. Both teams finished with 441 yards.

The tie season was PHIS whose capabilities generally figure to swing the balance in early games while the offense is rebuilding.

Biggest loss will be Dick Sanders, the 228-lb. wide and three-year letterman. Moving out, too, will be big Tim McCann, who pounds at the other tackle slot will also be difficult to replace. All of the others who started Saturday on defense will be back, however, and there is good depth at most positions.

On offense — in addition to the 4-M Club — both quarterbacks return: Dan White and Joe Wright, an alternative duo themselves, will be seniors next fall. At wing back, highly-regarded Pete Hauck will take over as a junior for the graduating Jim Koloski.

The greatest number of losses come in the offensive line, where the inside of this year's situation prevails. This fall, the only hole to be filled was at short side guard; in 1969, only shortside guard Mike Guerin will return.

Rebuilding an offensive line is a major problem, but it was this segment of the 1968 team which must bear as much responsibility as any for the disappointing season. If Princeton next year can block in the best single wing tradition — and this would include the letterbacks — a number of fullbacks where inconsistency was not prevalent this fall — the offense should outmatch the best of the Ivy League defenses.

The Tigers' will begin the 1969 season with the best back in the Ivy League on their roster. As a sophomore, Brian McCullough scored 89 points to lead the individual scoring; ran for 712 to take first place in rushing; ranked third in total offense behind Domes and Dowling, despite the fact that he had all kinds of trouble at the outset with his passing.

He is, however, improving rapidly in this department against Yale and Cornell, he was a combined 10 for 17 and no interceptions. Over all, his total offense was 1,100 yards, placing him only slightly behind Royce Plim and Dick Kasmirer. In scoring 13 touchdowns in his first year on the varsity, he topped them all.

Blending into the varsity will be a freshman team good enough to win four (Rutgers, Cornell, Columbia, Yale), losing two (Penn and Harvard) by a total of 9 points.

The elements for a drive to the top are there — but after all that went wrong in 1968, when the Tigers labored themselves as a chief contender in the Ivy race, no one will make any claims of success until success has been achieved.

coach Dick Wood's first in his seven years at the helm. "In all my years in coaching I've never had a team like this," said Wood. "I still feel I had better material this year than I did last, when we won seven games." If one word could be used to describe the 1968 PHIS eleven it would be "unpredictable."

If Saturday's 28 all deadlock did not have the fever pitch excitement of the Princeton-Yale game played the same day, it nonetheless provided a good excuse to satisfy the most ardent offensive fan. The contest featured 42 points scored in the first half and a fine 8-0-8 performance by extra point kickers Chris Gardner of PHIS and William Brader of Madison. "These are good spectator games," said Wood.

Princeton almost pulled it out in the final seconds, with nine seconds to go, Gartner attempted a 30-yard field goal which was blocked. PHIS recovered the loose ball and lined up to try a second kick. However, the referee ruled the ball had been recovered in bounds and not on the line as it appeared and the clock ran out.

As in all PHS games this season, the final outcome bore the heavy imprint of Nick Arcaro, the team's remarkable tailback who should be a shoe-in for Mercer County honors. Nick, as he did in the Notre Dame game two weeks ago when he had a hand in all five PHS scores, figured in all of the scoring against Madison. He ran for three TDs and passed for the fourth.

He entered the game with 1,020 yards total offense and finished above the 1,200 mark. There have been better runners at tailback in recent years — Jeff Bullock and Paul Walstad — and better passers perhaps, such as last year's Thom Yoder, but none in Wood's tenure was as adept in both running and passing as was Arcaro.

Hand in 19 TDs. Nick scored 11 TDs on runs, including a 58-yard off tackle jaunt against Madison. For the season's first score—his longest of the season—and one on a 30-yard pass from Luciano Rossi. In addition, Nick tossed for seven scores, his favorite receiver being wingback Bob Cooper who caught five.

The Madison game was only minutes old when Arcaro ran up the middle, breaking tackles as he went in one of his patented off tackle thrusts. Madison came right back, as Spartan quarterback Eric Cole connected on four straight passes, the last a 33-yarder to end Roger Edley cutting across the middle.

Dave Drake's recovery of a Madison fumble set up Princeton's second score. The 52-yard, eight-play march was the product of Arcaro and Cooper, who handled the ball for all eight plays. Arcaro ran five of them, scoring from the one. Cooper picked up two first downs and was on the receiving end of the one pass in the drive.

After Bill Barrett returned the following kickoff to the 45, Madison got the remainder of the game in three plays. Madison then went ahead for the first time when it went 80 yards — this time in two plays. Halfback Rick Gregus, who along with Arcaro, was the outstanding runner on the field, carried once for 45 yards and Cole passed to his end Walt Ludeke, who made a nice fake on Jim Feich after he caught the ball and went in standing up. Only 1:26 remained in the half. That was all PHS needed, however.

The Game at 21-all. Arcaro passed for first downs to Cooper and then to Joe Fisher on the 42 yard-line of Madison with 21 seconds remaining. Back to pass again, Arcaro had to run with the ball. Eleven seconds left. On the next play Arcaro passed cross-field to Cooper who made a nice catch and then added an equally fine run as he managed to stay in bounds and race down the sidelines for the score.

The second half was less hectic. The visitors' only score in the half came with 6:49 remaining in the third period, as they were able to capitalize on Cooper's fumble on the PHS 37. From then on, some aggressive line play by the home team, headed by the tackling of Chris Mislav and Mike Tomlinson, helped keep Madison in check.

Meantime, PHS wasn't doing much either and the game evolved into a punting duel. With 5:16 to go, Cooper fielded a Spartan punt on the PHS 29. It was here in this never-never stage that Arcaro took over and demonstrated his ability in passing and running.

He passed four consecutive times, hitting Dave Drake and Pete McCrohan for first downs, both receivers making fine grabs. He hit Gary Divalio for six yards and then Cooper for another first down on the Madison 24.

MR. EVERYTHING: Nick Arcaro had a standout year for the Princeton High School football team, scoring a dozen touchdowns, he ran for a total of more than 1,200 yards.

Then he ran the ball four times: First for five yards, then for a first down on the 13, then to the seven. With 1:37 to go, Nick got the last seven to set up Gartner's fourth conversion. The evenness of the game was reflected by the statistics. PHS held a 154 to 151 yard edge in passing and a 30-yard edge in rushing.

PDS FAILS IN BID
For Winning Season. At the start of the second half against Morristown Prep Friday, the Princeton Day School football team began its quest in earnest for a winning football season, and finished by outscoring the visitors, 13-6.

Unfortunately for the Panthers, it takes two halves to make a football game, and in the first one Morristown dominated putting 14 points on the scoreboard, while blanking PDS. The final tally, 20-13, brought about a disappointing end to the Blue and White's fourth conversion.

Sports In Princeton

With victories in four of their last five contests, the Panthers wanted this one badly to boost their record to 5-3. However, Morristown, with just one loss in seven games, had similar reason for wanting to win — a 7-1 mark would be its best in several years.

For the first half, it was quite evident which team wanted the game most. Morristown was able to run through the PDS line for two scores, while keeping a tight rein on the PDS offense.

Interception Hurts PDS. After a scoreless first period, the visitors got a big break with PDS attempting to move the ball from its own 34. Erik Heggen, back to pass, threw into the arms of a Morristown defender, who ran the ball down to the PDS 15. Two plays later, the visitors had their first score and kicked the extra point to lead 7-0.

A little later, a PDS gamble to run on fourth down when lined up to kick, failed to gain the needed yardage and Morristown took over on the PDS 46. With simple straight ahead running, plus a fine bootleg by the quarterback, the winners marched to their second score.

Whatever coach Dan Barren told his players during the intermission obviously had the desired effect. The Panthers began the second half looking like a brand new team. Running the kick-off back to the Morristown 45, the Panthers needed just six plays to achieve their first score, with halfback Craig Page going over from 11 yards out and breaking two tackles in the process. A fake kick and pass completion brought the seventh point.

Each team had a drive halted by a fumble, but midway through the fourth period, the Panthers began to move again. From their own 46, they got to the Morristown 31, where freshman tailback Kirk Moore skirted right end on a superb run and went all the way.

Chance for Tie Missed. The crucial PAT never came off as the snap from center never got back to the holder, and PDS was on the short end of a 14-13 score. A chance still remained to score again, but Morristown shocked the PDS defense when its tailback swept right end on a 60 yard touchdown ramble. When the extra point attempt was blocked the Panthers had a chance to tie, but an interception and the clock killed this final hope.

Once again, as Barren pointed out, crucial errors played a big part in the Panthers' defeat, but if the team had played the first half as it did the second, the outcome might have been different. The end

LIMIT BAGGED IN THREE HOURS: Harland F. "Pink" Baker (left), who has been hunting geese for 15 years, and Bob Morgan, 63 Lovers Lane, who went on his first duck trip, bagged the limit of Canada geese Friday in three hours. The pair arrived at Fieldsboro, Del., 50 miles south of Wilmington near the shore, at 4 in the morning and were done shooting by 7:20. result, a 4-4 record, is nothing to be ashamed of, it just lacks the lustre of what might have been.

This season marks the end of PDS's independent status; next year it joins the Penn-Jersey League. Judging from the number of players it will have returning, PDS should be able to hold its own. Hun and Bryn Athyn and possibly Perk'omen will be tough, but the other schools should be more of an even match.

Seniors like Keith Bash, Ashby Adams, Craig Page, Rick Judge and Ed Cole will be missed, but plenty of talent remains to build a football team around. In the three seasons he has left, Kirk Moore has the potential to develop into one of the finest running backs in the league.

Crichton Adams and Terry Booth, both strong runners, and aggressive on defense will give PDS a veteran backfield along with Erik Heggen at quarterback. Holdover Lew Bowers will anchor a line that will need some rebuilding, and freshman Peter McCandless has the ability to fill in wherever needed most.

HUN TOPS PENNINGTON

To Share Penn-Jersey Title. Hun coach Hawley Waterman must feel like the players who described a tie as "something like being kissed by your sister."

Hun hasn't been defeated in two years now and has a 18-0-3 record, dating from the last two games of the 1966 season. But those three ties have hurt. Two came last year and caused Hun to lose the Penn-Jersey championship to George School, which had only one league tie. A 6-6 tie with Bryn Athyn this year forced Hun to share the League crown with the Pennsylvania School, as both have 5-0-1 league marks.

The tie, as expected, resulted when Hun defeated its neighborhood rival, Pennington School, 21-7, Saturday and Bryn Athyn was blanking George School, 20-0. Commenting on the tie, Hun coach Hawley Waterman said, "It makes for a long year, but a good year."

Safety Starts Scoring. Against Pennington, which managed to win only one this year for new coach John Biddiscombe, Hun opened the scoring with a safety when Richard Ziegler tackled punter Steve Robbins in the end zone. Robbins had let the snapback elude him and he was in the process of trying to run the ball out.

Quarterback Mike Maguire tossed 17 yards to halfback Steve Peters for Hun's first six pointer and he added the Red and Black's second on a three-yard run with 3:10 to go in the half. Co-captain Dick Mate, who led Hun in scoring this year, swept around right end from 11 yards out near

HIGH TEAM MARK TIED

By Mamel. Mamel rolled 876 last week, which tied the high team game for the season in the Princeton Women's Bowling League. First-place Rosso's Cafe fashioned the high team series of 2436.

Individually, Marilyn Silverster of Rosso's spilled the most pins on games of 194-187, ending with a 536 series. Betty Cooper and Sara Rose, also of Rosso's had 182 and 173. Cathy Consoli of Irene's Day Nursery rolled a 167-58 pins over her average—while Alice Potts' 168 was 41 pins over her average of 127.

Other high scores: Charlene Allen, 177; Helen Lowe, 175; Sue Goodwin, 167. Joan Ivins converted the 4-5-7 split, and Marge Davison, Marie Manley, Flo Ivins and Pat Brown mastered difficult two-pin splits.

In the standings, Rosso's remains in first place with 74 points. Cranbury Bank (65), Turney Motor Co. (62), Mamel (53), and Swift's Colonial Diner (49) follow.

the end of the third period to wind up Hun's scoring.

Pennington tallied its lone score in the third period, marching 73 yards in nine plays. Quarterback Carl Gotlieb tossed 30 yards to Paul Zeubeck for the TD.

Reserve linebacker Bill Dennis, filling in for Jim Kopliner and guard Doug Townsend, who was injured, led Hun in tackles with 12. Mate led in that department over the season with 44.

Bright Picture. Members of the league needn't shed any tears over Hun's misfortune this year: Hun has a good nucleus returning. "We should be fairly strong again next year," said Waterman.

Returning in the backfield for Hun will be quarterback Maguire, halfback Steve Peters, an explosive runner; fullback Kopliner and Alan Chalifoux, Maguire's replacement. Chalifoux, a freshman, kicked add of Hun's extra points this season.

Back at ends will be Mike Rossi and Ziegler, both capable performers this year, and Jan Bush. At tackle again will

THE SMELL OF APPLE CIDER

pumpkins grinning and leaves turned all red and orange. This is the time when most of us wait long walks in the country to savor
the last golden moments before winter comes.

We urge you to look at this "country Colonial" surrounded by beautiful old trees and a white picket fence. Both the living room and dining rooms have fireplaces.
The kitchen is big and bright,
and there's a bath with shower
on first floor. Four big bedrooms and another bath on the second floor. Central air conditioning adds a modern touch.

Practically speaking, the separate apartment consisting of living room, kitchen, bedroom and bath, offers income potential, if you don't need it for mother-in-law.

COUNTRY ESTATE

Only fifteen minutes from town
we can offer you approximately 10 beautiful acres with a panoramic view of Hopewell Valley. The house, one of the oldest in the Hopewell area, has been nicely restored.

Enter into a center hall with a "parlor" with fireplace (antique lovers will appreciate the craftsmanship of the mantel) on one side and the formal living room on the other. The dining room has the old-time walk-in fireplace and open beamed ceiling.

A small den leads to the modernized kitchen with a charming view in the ceiling to let in the country sunshine. Children's eating pantry.

The big barn and other outbuildings are in good condition and the acres are fenced to contain horses.

Above the house, on the hillside,

REALTOR

32 Chambers St. Princeton Tel. 924-1416

Sales: Anne S. Stockton

We have an attractive Victorian house on Library Place. The lot is easy to take care of, with a large secluded rear yard and large trees. There are 4 rooms & lavatory on the first floor with an ample entrance hall and front and back stairs to 1 bedrooms & 2 baths on the second floor. The third floor has 2 bedrooms & bath and good old fashioned storage and it can all be shut off by door from second floor. Carpeting for first floor and halls is included. Owners prefer to give possession in spring. $87,500

New Listing: "Warm and Friendly" best describes this delightful 4 bedroom, 2 story with its wide old brick foyer with plaster — whose double doors lead importantly to large family room reminiscent of the old keeping room. The focal points here are the custom raised hearth fireplace with woodbox, oak timber mantle and the woodsy view thru triple window. More places include adjacent beamed den with built in desk and book-case, large living room with colonial fireplace, 15 x 12 dining room, large equipped kitchen with bay windowed dining area, master bedroom suited to king sized bed and triple dressers, 2½ baths, laundry, central air conditioning, basement and 2 car garage. In desirable Longacres. $59,900

A companion home in Longacres in Dutch Colonial style, with an outstanding and cozy kitchen-family room with fireplace and slate floor. Opening from this is a family room facing the woods. All the other nice things are here too — good foyer, excellent living and dining rooms, 4 bedrooms, 2½ baths, laundry room, 2 car garage and basement. Air-conditioning and burglar alarm systems. Available now. $57,900

Available now — tastefully decorated colonial in Princeton Ridge with 4 bedrooms, 2½ baths, large step down living room with fireplace, excellent dining room, eating kitchen, room with per-beamed den and laundry. Central air conditioning, dry painted basement, 2 car garage and nice 1 acre lot. $45,000

DIRECTIONS: From Princeton take Princeton-Highstown Rd. to Rt. 130. Turn right at light on Rt. 130 in Hightstown to Hickory Corner Rd. (Potter & Hillman Food). Turn right to new furnished sample.

WALK TO SCHOOL . . . in one of Princeton's fine neighborhoods most favored by executives and commuters, this excellently maintained residence is close to Littlebrook School. Living room with fireplace, dining room, modern kitchen, recreation room, den (or 5th bedroom), bath. Upstairs, 4 bedrooms, 2 baths, Central air-conditioning. Wall-to-wall carpet in living room, hall, stairs, two bedrooms, Brick patio. Oversize two-car attached garage. Outdoors, in the excellently landscaped grounds, there is a very large (25x50) swimming pool, constructed in 1961. Lots of playmates for your children, close to home. (*) $50,000

WHEATSHEAF LANE . . . on one of Princeton's loveliest streets, this little gem of a house is ideal for a couple dreaming of retirement. First floor: living room, dining room, modern kitchen with a screened deck just out the back door where one can loiter over a late breakfast and listen to the music of Harry's Brook in the back yard . . . plus 2 bedrooms and a brand new tiled bath. Downstairs: a large recreation room, with bar, with a door to the back yard. The lot is small and easy to maintain, but the trees and shrubs are so luxuriant that they create a privacy which you will prize forever. New refrigerator-freezer and combination washer-dryer are included in the sale . . . also, wall to wall carpeting throughout the house, and some furniture in the recreation room. (*) $37,000

NEW COLONIALS . . . built by one of Princeton's most dependable builders, these fine new homes are located among tall trees on a quiet cul-de-sac in West Windsor Township. For commuters, only three minutes away from the railroad station. All six homes will be ready for occupancy in the Spring. 4 bedrooms, 2 1/2 baths, family rooms. Now is the time for you to make your choice, while you're still able to choose colors, equipment, etc. Your children will love the area, for there are many playmates in this young neighborhood. By all means, see these fine homes before you decide. Priced in middle 40's.

MANY EXTRAS . . . here is a beautiful home in a very nice new neighborhood in Lawrenceville where your children can find many, many playmates. 5 bedrooms, 3 baths, central air-conditioning. However, a mere recital of rooms and other such details will never give you the true picture of this property. What makes this fine home so unusual is the fact that the owners have put so much more into their house — base-board heat, for example, so that the extra investment in duct work enables them to freshen the indoor air in Winter when they entertain; wall-to-wall carpeting; a pair of real old carriage lamps beside the front door; a larger than usual deck outside the dining room; a TV antenna with rotor; special landscaping . . . the list is really quite long! Add up all the extras, and you'll agree that this is an excellent value. $47,500

LAWRENCE . . . two-story stone and frame Colonial, located in a fine residential neighborhood with many towering trees. Large living & dining rooms. Lovely new kitchen, plus butler's pantry. Two fireplaces, 6 bedrooms, 4 baths and powder room. Located near a college and across the road from a golf club, this fine home is a place you'll love to live in and always be proud of. $79,500

BROOKSTONE . . . in one of Princeton's most beautiful wooded areas, this large brick and frame residence, with central air-conditioning, has a spacious foyer, large living room with fireplace, dining room, library with fireplace, modern kitchen, 4 bedrooms, 2 baths, powder room and, on the second floor, a huge upstairs family room. Two acres of land, with beautiful trees and shrubs. This is a large house, designed and built for people of means. You'll benefit from all the thoughtful care this fine home has had, and you'll always be thankful for the landscaping which makes the setting so beautiful . . . and so perfect! $115,000

(*) Many more fine homes in Princeton & vicinity in a wide price range.
Ample parking space for our clients.
